The 1997 University of Maryland Football Media Guide is dedicated to two very special people — Dr. Stan Lavine and Mr. Jim Weir. Dr. Lavine first served the Terps as a football letterman in 1948 and 1949 and from then, until his passing in December of 1996, he served the Terps from the medical profession. He was on call at all times for every student-athlete who competed at the University. Weir was known to a generation of student-athletes and coaches as a respected member of the sports medicine staff at Maryland for over 26 years until his passing in November of 1996.

It was published by the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, Deborah A. Yow Director. It was written, compiled and edited by Chuck Walsh, Director of Media Relations with considerable help from Mark Ragonese, Tricia Harris, Dave Gell, Phil Hughes, Andy Krauss, Josh Hermann, Dave O'Brian, Jeff Stauffer and Sandy Ratke. Lisa Helfert, is the chief photographer for the publication. Layout and design is by Dave Pfeiffer of Concrete Creative in Beltsville, Md. who teamed with Kathy Myrick of Baltimore, Md. to produce another of his long line of wonderful publications for the Department of Athletics. The publication was printed by Chroma Graphics, Inc. of Largo, Md. A great deal of thanks goes to the staff of Chroma Graphics (Kathy and Rusty Coolidge) who helped make this book possible.

Mission Statement

Our mission is to take the student-athlete where he cannot take himself.

We will foster an environment that teaches young men to:

1. Relentlessly pursue the ACC Championship, while always embracing the highest ideals of intercollegiate athletics and staying within the academic mission of the University of Maryland;

2. Appreciate and embrace cultural diversity;

3. Grow and develop as leaders, as students, and as individuals;

4. Embrace a commitment to each other, based on honesty, integrity and strength of character;

5. Strive to seek excellence in everything we do.

These are the standards for which we strive.

Mission Statement

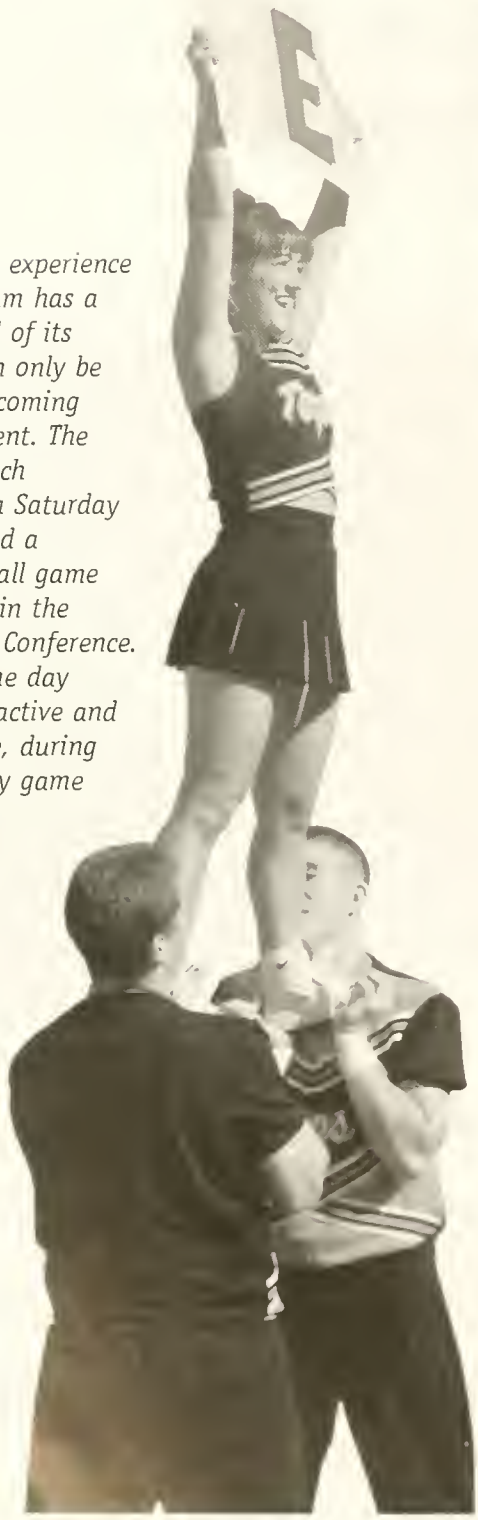
One Heartbeat

Our program will be built on the premise that each person's individual integrity will be honored. The respect, affection and care existing between the players and the coaching staff will create the chemistry that will mold our football team into a family. We will operate on One Heartbeat.

The Maryland Football program will transform today's student-athlete into tomorrow's leader, by fostering an environment where excellence is pursued academically, athletically and socially.

Game Day at Byrd

The Game Day experience at Byrd Stadium has a uniqueness all of its own which can only be realized by becoming part of the event. The pageantry which encompasses a Saturday in the Park and a Terrapin football game is unmatched in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Events on game day are fully interactive and enjoyed before, during and after every game at Byrd.



Game Day at Byrd

Maryland fans arrive early to generate the Terrapin spirit which has become a long-standing tradition throughout the campus on a beautiful autumn day. The backdrop of the campus only enhances the spirit surrounding a football game at Byrd Stadium. The revelry on campus and around the stadium has become legendary.

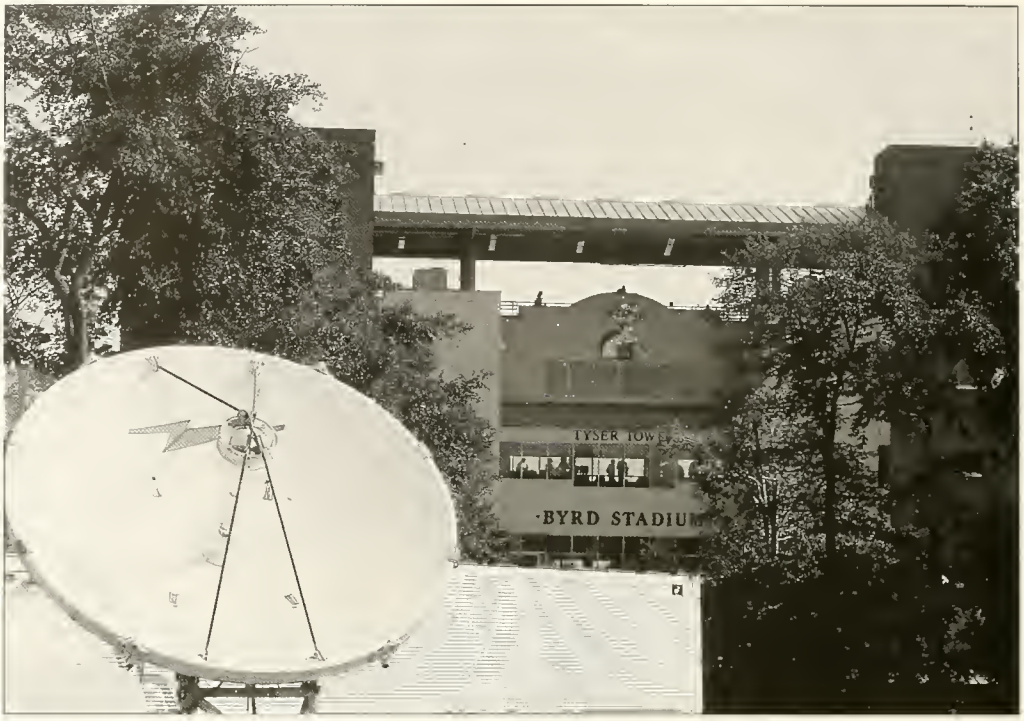
Media Exposure

The Maryland football team appeared on television eight times during the 1996 season. The Terps were seen on ESPN, ESPN 2, ABC and Jefferson Pilot Teleproductions.

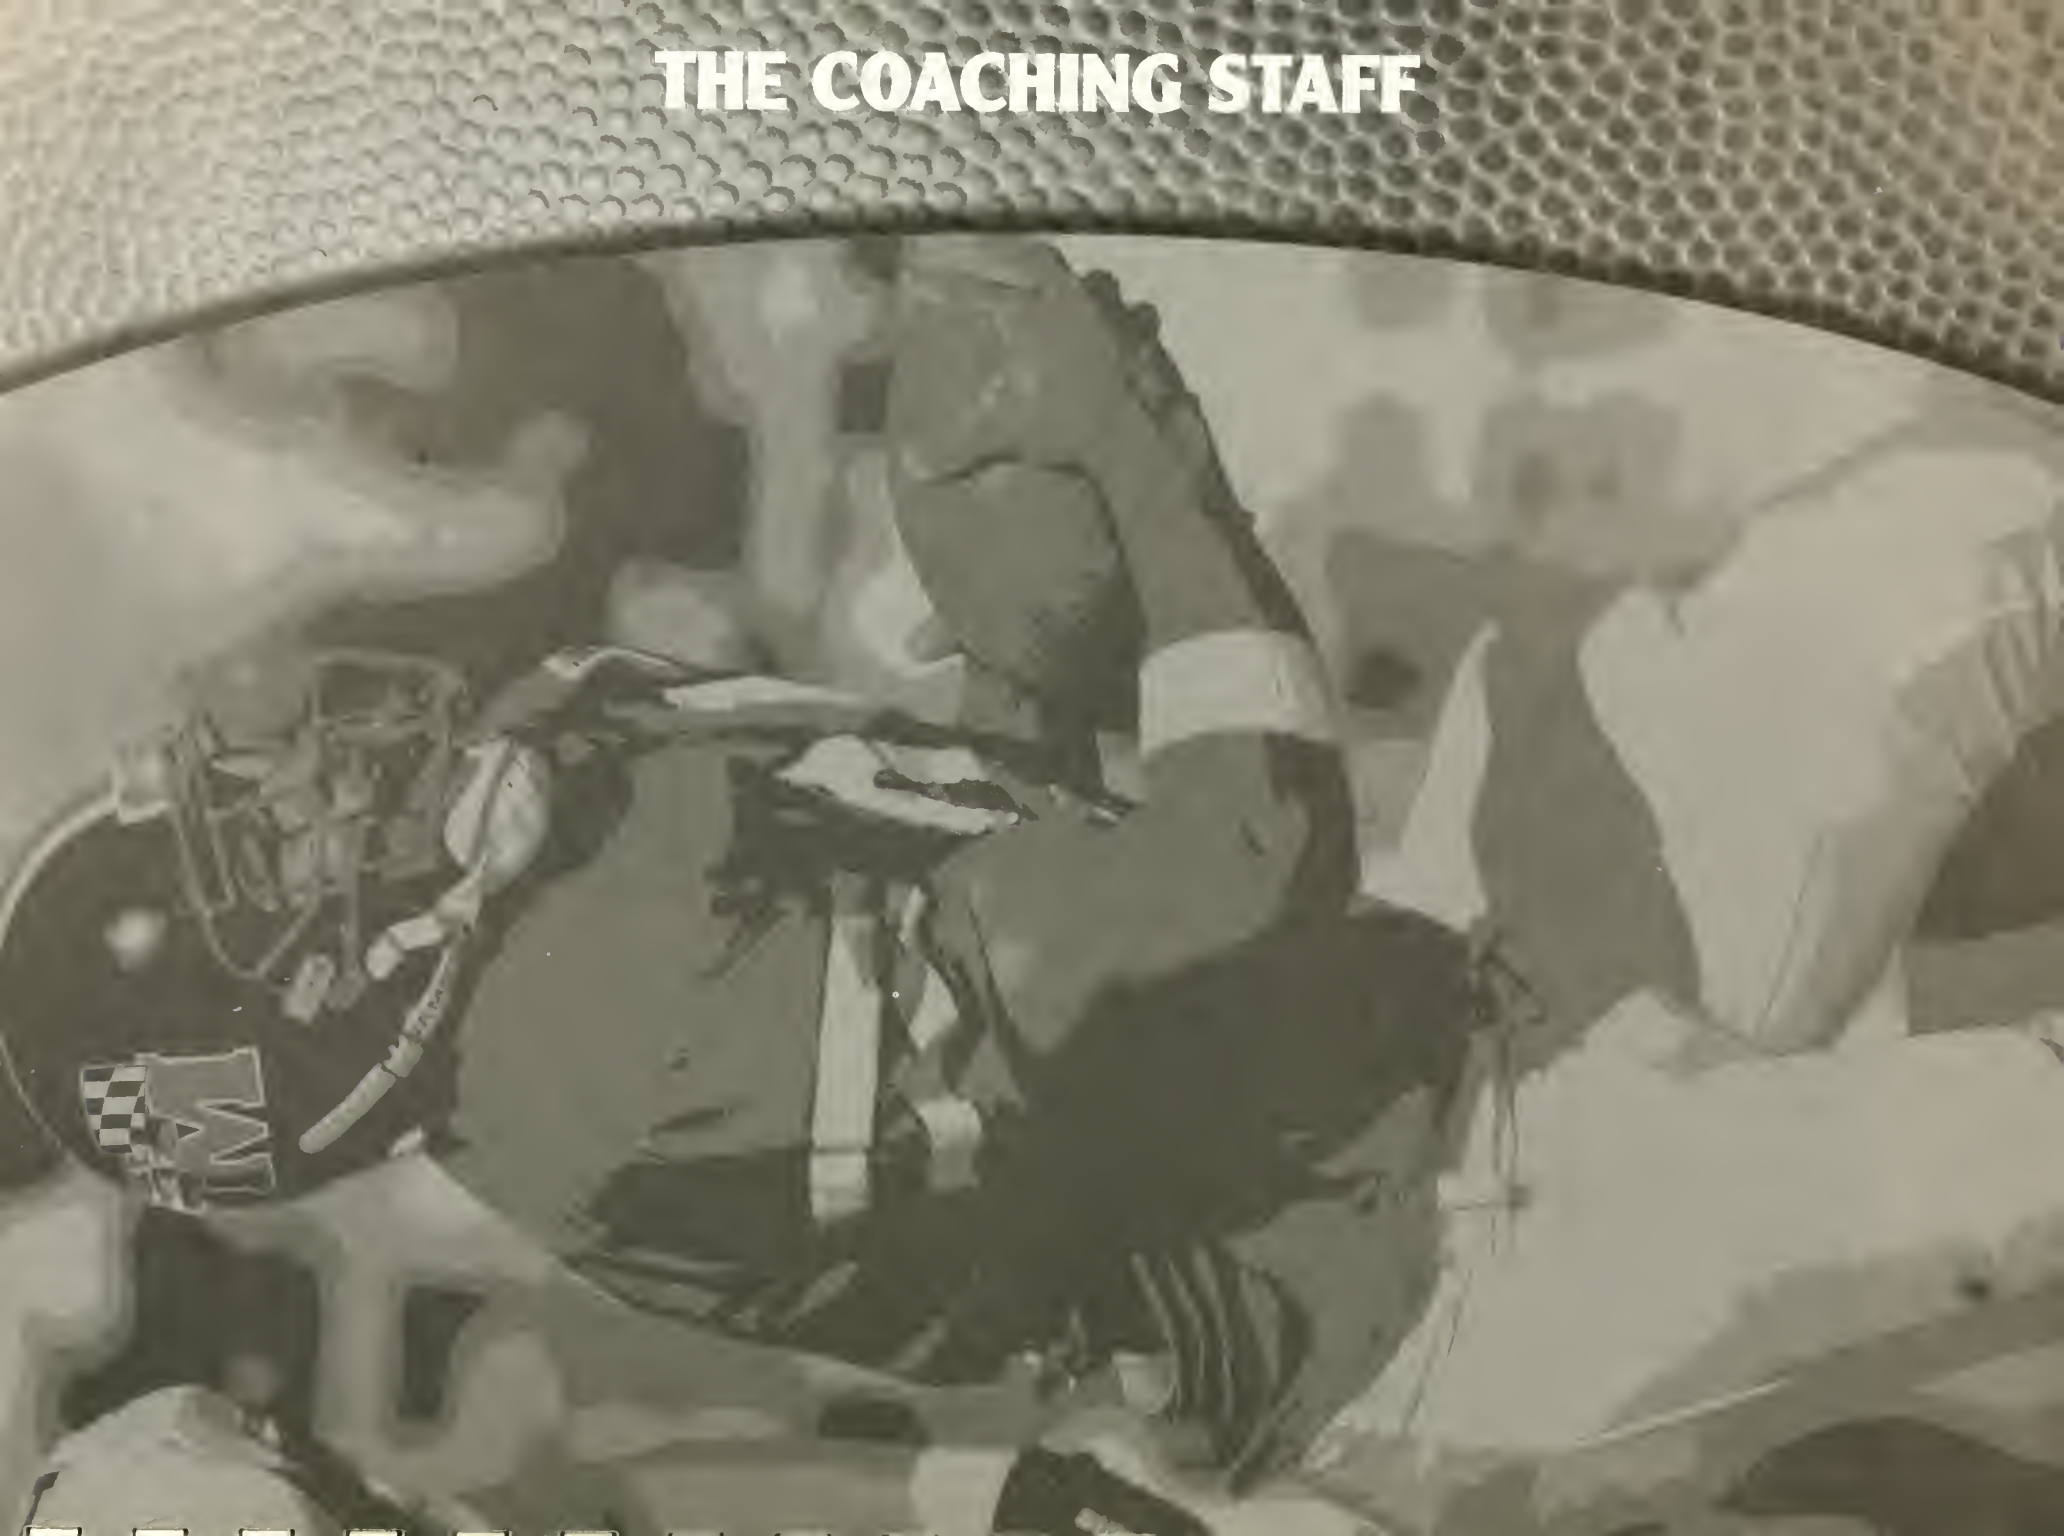
In 1997 the Terps will appear on television no less than eight times, with the possibility of all 11 regular season games being televised.

Byrd Stadium played host to ESPN's Gary Danielson, Brad Nessler and Dr. Jerry Punch in 1996 as the college football world tuned to the World Wide Leader in sports and watched as Maryland defeated Georgia Tech. ESPN has been a frequent visitor to Byrd Stadium with the first ever broadcast of a sporting event in the network's infancy originating at the University of Maryland in 1979.

The Terps compete in the Atlantic Coast Conference, which is annually one of the nation's leaders in televised games. Teams in the ACC made a conference record 56 appearances on national television during the 1996 season.



THE COACHING STAFF



Ron Vanderlinden

HEAD COACH

A lightening bolt of enthusiasm struck College Park on December 4, 1996, when Director of Athletics Deborah A. Yow introduced Ron Vanderlinden as the Terps' 33rd head coach to a standing room only crowd of boisterous supporters, alumni and fans.

Vanderlinden comes to Maryland from Northwestern University where he helped the Wildcat program fashion a meteoric rise into the upper echelon of college football. Vanderlinden became the assistant head coach and defensive coordinator to Gary Barnett at Northwestern University in 1992 and in a span of four years, helped transform the dormant program into a two-time Big Ten Conference champion. He helped mold a 3-8 team in his first season into a Rose Bowl participant in his fourth season. The Wildcats won 15 of 16 Big Ten games in 1995 and 1996 after having won only five in the first three seasons.

"It is with great excitement, enthusiasm and anticipation that I now join the University of Maryland football family," said Vanderlinden on the day of his appointment. "Our standard for success will be winning the ACC Championship."

The Wildcats were Big Ten Champions and played Southern California in the 1996 Rose Bowl and finished as the conference Co-Champions and played Tennessee in the Citrus Bowl in 1997.

Vanderlinden was the architect of Northwestern's defensive unit which finished first in the nation in 1995 in scoring defense (12.7 points per game), and third in turnover margin (+1.82 per game). In 1996, the Wildcats ranked 19th in the nation in turnover margin (+ 0.73 per game).

In addition to serving as the defensive coordinator, Vanderlinden coached the Wildcats inside linebackers and punt return unit. The punt return unit finished first in the nation in 1992, fourth in the nation in 1993 and ninth in the nation in 1995.

"When I first visited the University of Maryland, I was immediately impressed with the beauty of the Maryland campus. Our stadium and press box have recently been renovated. It is user friendly, and is one of the most updated and beautiful stadiums in the nation. Being right in the center of campus adds to its appeal. I found the football complex to have recently been constructed and first class in every way. The closer for me was a meeting with President Kirwan and AD Deborah A. Yow, sharing their vision for the future of Maryland football. Everything is in place to win the ACC Championship at the University of Maryland. My goals coming to the University of Maryland are two fold, the first is to graduate all of our players, the second is to win the ACC Championship!"

Ron Vanderlinden

During his tenure at Northwestern, Vanderlinden recruited and coached several of the most outstanding football players in school history. Under his leadership, Northwestern's Pat Fitzgerald was the 1995 and 1996 Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year and a two-time All-American. Fitzgerald was named as the Chuck Bednarick and Bronko Nagurski National Defensive Player of the Year in 1995. In addition, he was selected as the National Defensive Player of the Year by Chevrolet and Sports Illustrated.

"Ron won unanimous support of our selection committee and that was great because he was always my top choice," said Director of Athletics Deborah A. Yow. "Everyone has said that he is a dynamic coach, that he is knowledgeable, a relentless recruiter and a tireless worker."

Yow continues: "He's done twice what we want a coach to do: build up a program. And the rebuilding jobs were at good academic schools in Colorado and Northwestern. Based on those credentials, he was an early front runner."

Vanderlinden enjoyed tremendous success at Northwestern in the past two seasons. The Wildcats won 19 games and played in two major bowl games. Only nine programs in the nation have won more games in the last two seasons than Northwestern. In addition, the 19 wins over two consecutive seasons established a Wildcat football record. Previously the 1903 and 1904 Wildcat teams won 17 games in back-to-back seasons.

Northwestern was ranked 8th in the final 1995 Associated Press Poll, conducted by the nation's football writers and broadcasters, and was 7th in the CNN/USA Today poll of college coaches. The Wildcats ranked 15th in the final media poll and 16th in the final coaches' poll in 1996.

The success enjoyed on the field by the Wildcats was congruent with Vanderlinden's philosophy of high academic achievement. Northwestern earned recognition by the College Football Association as one of the exemplary academic programs in the nation.

"Ron is a very excellent football coach, but his mark will be made with his organizational skills and his love for his players and their families. He will be a relentless recruiter. Ron will always respect the mission of the university and will be a great ambassador for the University of Maryland."

Head Football Coach

Ron Vanderlinden

"I absolutely think Maryland should be one of the premier programs in the country," Vanderlinden said the day he was hired. "I don't think we're that far away. We have a beautiful campus in a great location, first-class facilities and an impressive stadium, a supportive administration which is committed to winning and a large fan base with enthusiastic boosters. To me those are all the ingredients you need."

Vanderlinden came to Northwestern after coaching Colorado's defensive line for nine years (1983-91). He also served as the Buffaloes' recruiting coordinator for two years (1985-86). While there, he coached three All-Americans and five First-Team All-Big-8 selections. Colorado won the 1990 National Championship, three Big-8 titles (1989, 1990, 1991) and played in six bowl games during his tenure with the Buffaloes. From 1985-91, the Colorado defense was considered among the best coached units in the nation. The unit ranked No. 10 nationally in touchdowns allowed, 11th nationally in fewest points allowed and 18th nationally in total defense under Vanderlinden.

"Ron is a student of the game," says former Colorado Head Coach Bill McCartney. "He brings energy and fire to the game. I expect Maryland to be a physical team and very versatile football team. I expect them to run with authority and pass with continuity. On defense, I expect they will play with an aggressive, challenging style."

Vanderlinden was also part of an incredible turnaround at Colorado. Only three years after his arrival, the Buffaloes went to their first bowl in nine seasons. Success continued in Boulder as the team appeared in six bowls in Vanderlinden's final seven seasons. The crowning moment of the program came in 1990 when Colorado won the National Championship.

Vanderlinden began his full-time coaching career at Ball State University in 1982 where he worked with the offensive line for two years. From Ball State he moved to Colorado and then to Northwestern.

"It is my hope that when we do win the ACC we're undefeated so we have a chance for the national championship."

As a graduate assistant coach, he began his coaching career at Bowling Green State University under Denny Stolz and then moved on from there to work under Bo Schembechler at the University of Michigan (1979-80). Michigan played in both the Gator Bowl and the Rose Bowl as the Big Ten Champion.

Vanderlinden received his bachelor's degree from Albion (Mich.) College in 1978. He was a four-year starter at center for Albion and a First-Team All-Conference selection as both a junior and senior. He also earned three varsity letters in baseball. Albion finished with two undefeated seasons during his junior and senior seasons. Albion also participated in the first Division III playoff in the school's history.

Vanderlinden attended Dearborn (Mich.) Divine Child High School where he was a part of three straight league championship, and two state championship teams.

Vanderlinden, 41, is a native of Livonia, Mich. He and his wife, Lisa, have a daughter, Chelsea (10) and a son Reid (7). He is one of seven children born to Pete and the late Mary Vanderlinden. Pete was one of 14 children born to Belgian immigrants of Dutch descent.

"We needed a coach with significant success in the NCAA at the Division I level, someone who could build a football program into a champion and someone who cares about the academic success of the student-athletes. In Coach Vanderlinden, we found all of those attributes."

Deborah A. Yow
Director of Athletics
University of Maryland

"The year before Vanderlinden joined Bill McCartney's Colorado staff, the Buffaloes were 1-10. Six years later they were national champions. When Vanderlinden left Colorado to accompany Gary Barnett to Northwestern, they inherited a 3-8 team and the specter of 21 straight losing seasons. Four years later as Vanderlinden proudly said, 'We took the purple to Pasadena.'"

Tony Kornheiser
The Washington Post

"Bill McCartney created a recipe. We took it to Northwestern ... and it came through. Hopefully, that same formula can be applied here."

Ron Vanderlinden
Head Coach
University of Maryland

"We're looking for young men who want to build the building - not simply go to a program in place, rent space and put on someone else's jersey. I'm looking for young men of character who will cherish tradition and take Maryland back to the top."

Wally Ake

Defensive Coordinator

Defensive Ends

Wally Ake comes to College Park after a three-year stint as defensive coordinator at Rice University. In 1996, he helped lead the Owls to a 7-4 record and a second-place Western Athletic Conference finish. Rice's 1994 defense ranked in the top 25 in four categories as the team captured a share of the Southwest Conference title. While at Rice, Ake coached the defensive line during his last season and the inside linebackers his first two seasons.

Ake returns to the Atlantic Coast Conference after serving as Clemson's inside linebackers coach from 1990 to 1993. Under Ake's defensive leadership, the Tigers participated in the 1993 Peach Bowl, the 1991 Citrus Bowl and the 1990 Hall of Fame Bowl. Clemson's 1990 squad ranked first in the nation in total defense, while the 1991 team was ranked first against the rush.

Ake also spent six years at the University of Arkansas where he coached the defensive line from 1984 to 1988, and then was the linebacker coach in 1989. The Razorbacks captured two consecutive Southwest Conference titles in 1988 and 1989, and were invited to bowl games all six years during Ake's tenure.

Ake, 46, attended the College of William & Mary from 1968 through 1972, after graduating from nearby Falls Church (Va.) High School in 1968. He served as Falls Church's head coach in 1978, and its defensive coordinator and linebackers coach from 1974 to 1977.

Ake began his collegiate coaching career as William & Mary's linebackers coach in 1979 before serving as a graduate assistant coach at Arkansas in 1980. He was also the defensive line coach at the Air Force Academy from 1981 to 1983.

He and his wife, Chris, have one son, Aaron.

COACH VANDERLINDEN ON AKE:

"Wally and I have been close friends in football for the past 14 years. His knowledge of the game has always impressed me. There is not a defensive coordinator in college football with more big-game experience or bowl game participation than Wally Ake. The most impressive quality about Wally is the type of person he is. He is a great leader and role model to our players, as well as an outstanding family man."

Craig Johnson

Offensive Coordinator

Quarterbacks

Craig Johnson follows Maryland head coach Ron Vanderlinden from Northwestern University to serve as the Terps' offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. He tutored the Wildcat quarterbacks for five seasons, and under his guidance, Wildcat quarterback Steve Schnur led the Big Ten Conference in pass efficiency in 1996. Johnson helped take the Wildcats to the 1997 Citrus Bowl and the 1996 Rose Bowl. He also led Army to the 1985 Peach Bowl, and Arkansas to the 1984 Liberty Bowl.

Prior to coaching at Northwestern, Johnson served as Virginia Military Institute's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach for three years. The VMI offense ranked fifth nationally in 1990, and first in rushing for all Division I-AA schools in 1991. VMI's quarterback, Tony Scales, finished as the second-leading rusher among quarterbacks in Division I-AA history.

Johnson entered the collegiate coaching ranks as a graduate assistant at Wyoming, his alma mater, in 1983. From there, he went on to serve Arkansas in the same capacity in 1984. In 1985, Johnson became a part-time assistant at Army, and then moved to Rutgers where he coached the running backs from 1986 to 1988.

Johnson was a three-year letterwinner and a two-year starting quarterback at Wyoming.

Johnson, 36, and his wife, Darlene, have two daughters, Shelby Marie and Sydney.

COACH VANDERLINDEN ON JOHNSON:

"As I received head coaching inquiries, the first person I contacted was Craig Johnson, whom I had worked with five previous years at Northwestern University. During our five years together it was easy to see that Craig was one of the bright young offensive minds in football. Craig's coaching and development of the Northwestern quarterbacks played a large role in the two Big Ten championships we won together at Northwestern. He is an outstanding teacher and football strategist. Craig is thorough in his preparation and is a great family man. Maryland's offense is in great hands under his leadership."

Rubin Carter

Defensive Tackles

Rubin Carter joins the Maryland coaching staff after having served as the defensive line coach at San Jose State University the past two years. Prior to his time at San Jose State, Carter served as the defensive coordinator and defensive line coach at Howard from 1989-93. The Howard defense was consistently ranked in the top five in the nation versus the run and the pass under Carter's tutelage. While at Howard, Carter coached defensive end Jose White who later signed with the Minnesota Vikings.

Carter was a professional standout during his playing days with the Denver Broncos from 1975 to 1986, where he earned the Ed Block Award of Courage in 1986. Carter was the prototype nose tackle in the NFL and was featured on the cover of Sports Illustrated in 1977.

While playing nose guard with the Broncos, Carter participated in Super Bowl XII and Super Bowl XXI. Carter then joined the Bronco coaching staff, and appeared in Super Bowl XXII, this time as a defensive line coach. Carter coached four All-Pro defensive linemen: Simon Fletcher, Rulon Jones, Karl Mechlenburg and Greg Kragen.

Carter received his bachelor's degree from the University of Miami in 1975. While at Miami, Carter earned MVP honors in 1973, was a 1974 Kodak, UPI and AP All-American, and was named MVP of the 1975 Hula Bowl.

In 1981, Carter was inducted into the Ft. Lauderdale Hall of Fame and in 1992 was also inducted into the University of Miami Sports Hall of Fame.

Carter, 43, and his wife, Karen, have one daughter, Diandra, and three sons, Andre, Alvin and Joshua. Andre will begin his football career as a freshman at the University of California-Berkeley this fall.

COACH VANDERLINDEN ON CARTER:

"Rubin's reputation as a player and coach is only exceeded by the tremendous reputation he has earned as an extraordinary person. His 12 years and three Super Bowls with the Denver Broncos speak volumes about his tenacity, work ethic and expertise at the defensive line position. Rubin is an outstanding teacher and motivator, as well as a great family man and role model."

Chris Cosh

Linebackers

Recruiting Coordinator

Chris Cosh was the first coach to join head coach Ron Vanderlinden's staff. The former Washington, D.C., Metro High School Player of the Year from Bishop McNamara served as Illinois' defensive coordinator/inside linebackers coach last year, and assistant head coach in 1995. He began his tenure at Illinois as the inside linebackers coach in 1992, molding Butkus Award winner Dana Howard in 1994.

He's a veteran of three bowls, coaching in the 1994 Liberty Bowl, the 1992 Holiday Bowl and the 1983 Peach Bowl.

Prior to his tenure in Champaign, Cosh served as an assistant coach at Minnesota in 1991, and Nevada-Las Vegas in 1990. Prior to his stint at Nevada-Las Vegas, he was defensive coordinator at Southeast Missouri State in 1989 and Wisconsin-Oshkosh in 1985 through 1988. He was introduced into the coaching profession as a graduate assistant under Lou Tepper at Virginia Tech in 1983. He also spent one season as a graduate assistant at Minnesota in 1984.

Cosh played linebacker at Virginia Tech, leading the team in tackles his junior year. A recurring neck injury ended his playing career, but his transition into coaching was a smooth one.

Cosh, 37, and his wife, Mary, have two sons, J.J. and Billy.

COACH VANDERLINDEN ON COSH:

"Chris Cosh and I competed against each other in the Big Ten for five straight years. We went head-to-head in recruiting wars, and on the playing field. Our staff was always very impressed with the Illinois defense under Chris' leadership. In particular, the linebackers Chris coached were as fundamentally sound as any in the Big Ten Conference. Chris has earned the reputation as one of the top linebacker coaches and defensive minds in college football. He has already made an immediate impact on the linebacker corps at Maryland.

As a recruiting coordinator, Chris has set in motion a program and philosophy that will be as good as any in the country."

Steve Greatwood

Offensive Line

Steve Greatwood comes to College Park after serving as the St. Louis Rams' offensive line and tight ends coach the last two seasons. Greatwood was also a coach and player at the University of Oregon for 19 years.

Greatwood became Oregon's offensive line coach in 1982 after serving a graduate assistant two years. He helped coach the Ducks to four bowl appearances, including the 1995 Rose Bowl. Oregon also went to the 1992 Independence Bowl, the 1990 Freedom Bowl and the 1989 Independence Bowl.

He coached four players who played in the NFL, including Denver's Gary Zimmerman. As a player, he lettered at guard for Oregon from 1977 through 1979, and participated in the Hula Bowl his senior year.

Greatwood, 38, and his wife, Sheri, have three daughters, Kallie, and twins Tessa and Emmy.

COACH VANDERLINDEN ON GREATWOOD:

"Steve Greatwood and I first became acquainted in the mid-80's while I was an assistant at Colorado and he was an assistant at the University of Oregon. We competed against each other on an annual basis in recruiting, and our Colorado squad played his Oregon squad on four occasions. The offensive unit under his direction was always one of the best in the Pac-10. Steve's experience most recently with the St. Louis Rams in the NFL added to his reputation as one of the top offensive line coaches in college football."

Mike Gundy

Wide Receivers

Mike Gundy comes to College Park after serving as the quarterbacks coach and passing game coordinator at Baylor University during the 1996 season.

Prior to his one-year stint at Baylor, Gundy coached at Oklahoma State, his alma mater, from 1990 to 1996. He was hired as the Cowboys' full-time wide receivers coach during his last semester of school. He became the quarterbacks coach in 1992, and was named offensive coordinator in 1994.

A four-year starter at quarterback for Oklahoma State from 1986-89, Gundy still holds most Cowboy passing records, including the title as the Big-8 all-time leader in total offense. He led Oklahoma State to a 29-14 record as a starter, and served as captain his final three seasons.

He set school records for most completions in a game (27) and season (170), passing yards in a game (429) and season (2,203), and completion percentage in a season (64.8 percent) and career (58.3 percent).

The Cowboys finished 10-2 in 1987 and 1988. His 2,163 passing yards ranked him second in the NCAA in 1987. The Cowboys also led the nation in touchdowns (70) and points scored (522) in 1987.

Gundy led the Cowboys to victories in the 1987 Sun Bowl and the 1988 Holiday Bowl. He also competed in the 1990 Japan Bowl.

He shared the same backfield with two of the game's greatest tailbacks, Barry Sanders and Thurman Thomas.

Gundy, 29, and his wife, Kristen, have one son, Gavin. Gundy's brother, Cale, was a four-year starting quarterback at Oklahoma.

COACH VANDERLINDEN ON GUNDY:

"I first became acquainted with Mike Gundy during his years as a quarterback at Oklahoma State. He was an outstanding college quarterback, leading the Oklahoma State Cowboys to two straight 10-2 seasons. I knew Mike to be a great competitor and player who found a way to get the job done. He enjoyed the same reputation as a coach, having served as an Offensive Coordinator in two different Division I programs prior to his 30th birthday. Mike is truly one of the great passing innovators in college football."

Bob Heffner

Tight Ends

Bob Heffner begins his tenure at College Park after coaching Northern Illinois University's offensive line in 1996. Heffner's roots at Maryland run deep as his father, Fred, played for the Terps' 1953 national championship team.

Heffner coached at Lafayette College for a total of five years on two separate occasions prior to Northern Illinois; he was Lafayette's offensive coordinator and offensive line coach from 1993 to 1995 and the offensive line coach in 1988 and 1989. Lafayette captured the Patriot League title in 1988 and 1994 under his leadership.

Heffner spent four years in the professional ranks between his stops at Lafayette. He served as the director of player personnel and offensive coordinator for the Arena League Football champion Tampa Bay Storm in 1993.

From 1990 to 1993, Heffner served as the offensive coordinator, offensive line and running backs coach for the British Columbia Lions of the Canadian Football League. The Lions' Doug Flutie was voted the CFL's Most Valuable Player after setting the league record for passing in a season and Jim Mills won the league's Most Valuable Offensive Lineman award in 1990 and 1991.

Heffner began his collegiate coaching career with Illinois State as the interior defensive line in 1981 and later coached the offensive line from 1982 to 1988. Under his tutelage, Illinois State placed two offensive linemen on the All-America squad, eight linemen on the First Team All-Conference and three backs rushed for 1,000 yards a season.

Heffner served as a graduate assistant at Temple in 1979, his alma mater, and the Owls won the Garden State Bowl over the University of California that year. He earned three letters as an offensive guard and led the Owls to the Mirage Bowl in 1977 and 1978. He earned his bachelor's in secondary education in 1979.

Heffner, 41, and his wife, Nancy, have three daughters, Katie, Molly and Shelby.

COACH VANDERLINDEN ON HEFFNER:

"Bob is an outstanding teacher, motivator and technician. One of Bob's career highlights I was most impressed with was the fact that he coordinated an offense in the Canadian Football League that led the league in total offense. Our tight ends under Bob's direction will be proficient at both blocking and receiving."

Mike Locksley

Running Backs

Mike Locksley joins the Maryland staff after spending the last year and a half at Army as the wide receivers and tight ends coach. Last season he tutored the Cadets to victory over rival Navy and an appearance in the Independence Bowl. Tight end Ron Leshinski earned All-East honors last season under Locksley's watchful eye.

Prior to his time at West Point, Locksley spent a season at the University of Pacific as its outside linebackers coach. He was also responsible for the kickoff, punt and field goal block special teams.

From 1993 to 1994, Locksley served as the defensive coordinator and defensive line coach at the U.S. Naval Academy Prep School in Newport, R.I. He simultaneously served as Navy Prep's head track and field coach.

Locksley began his coaching career overseeing the special teams and defensive backs at Towson University, his alma mater, from 1992 to 1993. Locksley was a three-year starter for the Tigers' defensive backfield while playing from 1988 to 1991 and earned Defensive Player of the Year honors as a senior. He was also a member of the Tigers' basketball team for the 1991-92 season.

Locksley, 27, and his wife, Kia, have three sons, Mike, Meiko and Kai.

COACH VANDERLINDEN ON LOCKSLEY:

"Mike Locksley was recommended as one of the bright young coaches in college football. He is an outstanding role model and family man, and is on his way to becoming one of the outstanding football coaches in the country."

Defensive Backs

Doug Mallory, son of former Indiana head coach Bill Mallory, was the defensive backfield and punters coach for the Hoosiers the past three years. He inherits a Maryland squad that must replace four senior starters.

Mallory coached at Western Kentucky from 1990 through 1993 prior to his time in Bloomington and served as the Hilltoppers' defensive coordinator his last two seasons and defensive backs coach all four years. He directed Western Kentucky's defense to an 18th-place final ranking in 1993.

Mallory broke into the coaching profession as a graduate assistant at Indiana in 1988. He also spent one season as an assistant coach at Army in 1989.

As a player, Mallory was an honorable mention All-American at strong safety for Michigan. He played in four major bowls as a Wolverine and was a member of the 1996 Big Ten Co-Championship team. As a senior co-captain, he earned Second-Team All-Big Ten honors.

A 1988 graduate of Michigan with a degree in sports management and communications, Mallory, 32, and his wife, Lisa, have two daughters, Emily and Allison.

COACH VANDERLINDEN ON MALLORY:

"Doug is a great teacher and has a tremendous feel for the secondary. His experience as a defensive back at the University of Michigan helps him relate well to the players he coaches. Having competed against Doug's secondaries in the Big Ten the last three seasons, I was well aware of his coaching ability."

TODD HOBIN

Director of Video Services

Todd Hobin is in his sixth season as the director of video services for the football staff. Hobin's duties include not only assisting the football coaches, but also providing video services for the entire Department of Athletics. Hobin's expertise in his field allows him to service all 24 teams from his state-of-the-art video lab in the football building.

Inside the Terps football team building is a video editing lab which doubles as his office. With the most up-to-date editing equipment, Hobin can break down game and practice video in any number of ways. If a position coach wants a tape of just 'third and long plays', Hobin can create it instantly. If the defensive coaches want only plays where their defense was set in a particular formation, he has the ability to create that tape immediately.

Such creative editing is available because Hobin and his staff work tirelessly during games and practices chronicling every situation. Every play that occurs in a game or practice situation is coded by computer so that the special tapes can be edited soon after each session on the field.

Hobin was on the staff at Cornell University and helped the Big Red to the Ivy League Championship in 1990. He helped coach the running backs and served as the freshmen team's offensive coordinator. He spent three years on the staff.

Prior to coaching at Cornell, Hobin was on the staff at Ithaca College as an assistant defensive backs coach and defensive coordinator for the junior varsity. Ithaca won the 1988 Division III National Championship.

A native of Holland Patent, N.Y., Hobin graduated cum laude from Cortland State. He was a three-year letterwinner at running back and punter for the Red Dragons. He also attended Hamilton College for one year where he was the team's starting free safety.

Hobin and his wife, Candice, have a son, Bryce.

MICHAEL ACCORSI

Director of Football Operations

Michael Accorsi is in his third season as the Director of Football Operations. Accorsi oversees the daily management of the football program including operations, team travel and schedule coordination.

Accorsi, a 1991 graduate of the University of Pittsburgh with a degree in communications, served as a graduate assistant with the University of Virginia football program in 1991 and 1993 and served as its administrative assistant in 1992.

He earned his master's degree in sports psychology from Virginia in 1994.

PETE MARZANO

Graduate Assistant

Pete Marzano is in his second season as a graduate assistant for the Terp offense. He will assist offensive coordinator Craig Johnson in the coaching of the offensive line.

Marzano attended Lock Haven University where he played football and earned four varsity letters. He earned his bachelor's degree in health and physical education.

DON ZIMMERMAN

Graduate Assistant

Don Zimmerman is in his first season as a graduate assistant for the Terp defense. He will assist defensive coordinator Wally Ake. Zimmerman comes to Maryland from Towson University where he was a defensive assistant and defensive passing game coordinator. He worked directly with the defensive secondary and the linebackers. He was a three-year starter for the Tigers as a defensive back and on special teams.

PREVIEWING THE TERPS

Previewing the Terps

1997 University of Maryland Football Season Preview

All-Atlantic Coast Conference honorable mention selections Eric Barton, Eric Ogbogu and Johnnie Hicks are among the 11 returning starters, and 41 returning lettermen, who will headline the 1997 edition of the Maryland football team.

The Terps finished with a 5-6 record in 1996 and defeated conference opponents Georgia Tech, Wake Forest and Duke in addition to Division I-A opponents Northern Illinois and Alabama-Birmingham. The program posted 11 or more wins in back-to-back seasons for the first time since the 1985 and 1986 seasons and appeared in its first nationally televised home contest since the 1992 season.

Head coach Ron Vanderlinden begins his inaugural season in College Park—and his inaugural job as a head coach at any level—with a staff that he considers to be second to none. Vanderlinden, who was the defensive architect of the last two Northwestern University teams which won back-to-back Big Ten Conference championships, has assembled what could be one of the top assistant coaching staffs in the nation. Combined, the staff has competed in 44 collegiate bowl games and three NFL Super Bowls. In the decade of the 1990's, the staff has participated in 13 bowl games including two Orange Bowls and a pair of Rose Bowls. The staff's post-season bowl experience dates back to 1977.

Offensively, the new staff welcomes six returning starters—including its quarterback and its two leading ground gainers. Starting quarterback Brian Cummings has led the Terps to nine of their 11 wins in the last two years as the starter, while Brian Underwood, the team's leading rusher in 1996, gained 449 yards and Buddy Rodgers gained 447. Record-setting wide receiver Geroy Simon and center Erik Greenstein, who played nearly every snap in each of the last three seasons, are two of the five positions on offense the new coaching staff must replace.

Defensively, the group has five returning starters—including four of last year's top five tacklers. Linebacker Eric Barton became only the second sophomore in school history to lead the team in tackles while linemen Johnny Hicks and Eric Ogbogu combined for more than 130 tackles. The trio will anchor the Terps' front-seven—probably the strongest aspect of the team. Rebuilding the secondary, which saw all four starters graduate including first-round NFL pick Chad Scott, is the biggest concern facing the defense.

Quarterback

Brian Cummings earned the starting quarterback job following spring practice. He is in his fifth season with the program and has completed 56.0 percent of his career passes. He did not play baseball for the Terps last spring in order to concentrate solely on football practice.

"I was impressed with Brian," Vanderlinden said after Cummings directed the Red team to a 17-0 victory in the annual spring game. "I thought, in the first half in particular, he was the difference between the two teams. I think he showed a lot of poise and maturity and leadership."

Cummings, a redshirt senior, was named the pre-season starter but will be pushed by redshirt sophomore Ken Mastrole, who played in eight games last season. Mastrole completed 36 of 89 passes and became the first freshman in school history to start at quarterback after taking the field versus West Virginia. He appeared in eight games and gained valuable experience against three teams which later in the season appeared in post-season bowl games. In week eight at Duke, he suffered a broken clavicle and was unable to play or practice for the remainder of the season. He returned and participated fully in all of the Terps' spring practice sessions.

Redshirt sophomore Trey Evans, who was the holder on field goals and point-after-touchdown attempts when Cummings was hurt, is the third-string quarterback heading into the fall. Will Mack, a sophomore, and freshmen recruits Gil Harris and Erik Lipton will earn repetitions as they work their way up the depth chart.

Previewing the Terps

Running Back

Senior Buddy Rodgers is tied for sixth in school history with 12 rushing touchdowns and eighth in Maryland annals with a 4.3 yards per carry average. He could carry a healthy load of Maryland's rushing attack and has, since his arrival as a Parade All-American in 1994. He was one of eight players to earn playing time as a true freshman in 1994 and has carried the ball an average of nearly 100 times in each of his first three seasons. Look for that trend to continue in this his final, and hopefully, coming out season.

Redshirt senior Brian Underwood has good size for a running back, runs hard, and always keeps his feet moving. He led the Terps in rushing in 1996, when he gained a career-high 449 yards, and will compete with Rodgers at the tailback position. Underwood rushed for 74 yards versus Northern Illinois and 73 versus Georgia Tech—two of Maryland's victories in 1996.

Harold Westley played in all 11 games in 1996 and will earn his share of playing time behind Rodgers and Underwood. Westley was the third-leading rusher on the team last season, and was named the ACC Rookie of the Week for a 120-yard rushing performance versus Wake Forest. His effort against the Deacons set a school single-game record for rushing yards by a freshman.

Redshirt sophomore Peter Timmins, a converted linebacker, enters fall practice as the starter at the fullback position. He switched positions during the spring and will play on the offensive side of the ball for the first time in his career this fall. Sophomore Kenny Rogers, who played in eight games as a true freshman last season, should add to the depth at the position.

Sophomore Damone Boone is a very explosive runner who has big play potential. He figures to compete for playing time in 1997. The Terps signed six freshmen runners: Jason Hatala, LaMont Jordan, Matt Kalapinski, Ryan Swift, Aaron Thompson and Eric James. Depth at both the tailback and fullback positions could come from this group.

Offensive Line

Maryland returns four of its five interior line starters from last season. Of those four players, Darryl Gilliam and John Feugill will start for the third consecutive season, and Pat Ward for his second consecutive season.

Left tackle Darryl Gilliam may be the Terps' most talented offensive lineman. He began his career on the defensive line, and after a redshirt season in 1994, has been the starter at left offensive tackle. He is a stabilizing presence and leader on the field. Junior Ryan Rezzelle, who improved tremendously during the spring, is slated to back-up Gilliam.

Feugill started every game at right tackle last season and started two games in 1995 as a redshirt freshman. He will anchor the right side of the line and has worked hard to improve his technique. He is the tallest of the Terps' offensive lineman and uses his height to his advantage. He enjoyed a very productive spring until an injury forced him to miss the spring game. Brad Messina, a rapidly improving sophomore, is listed as Feugill's back-up.

Ward was a starter until an injury forced him out after the fifth game of the 1996 season. He has started 16 games while playing in 26 over the last three years and has the experience to be a leader at the position. Ward, a versatile player who has played on the defensive line during his career in College Park, will also be counted upon as a leader and anchor of the line. Redshirt sophomore Jamie Wu, the strongest player on the team, was moved to the offensive line and will compete for playing time.

Former walk-on Mitch Watkins will enter the fall practices as a starter at guard. Watkins started the final six games in 1996 at left guard for the injured Pat Ward, and his play merited a starter's role in 1997. He was the only offensive or defensive starter in the ACC who was not a scholarship player last season. Watkins injured his knee at the end of the season and was held out of the first half of spring practices. Talented redshirt sophomore Eric Timothy needs only repetitions to earn playing time.

Redshirt freshman Ben Thomas is vying for the starting honors at center. Thomas can also play the guard positions.

Wide Receivers

Bruce James, a redshirt junior who has caught 37 career passes, returns as Maryland's most experienced wide receiver. He caught at least one pass in all 11 games last season and has caught a pass in 13 consecutive games. James had six multiple-catch games last season and his return adds a boost to the receivers group.

Redshirt junior Kendrick Walton has 10 career receptions, including a seven-yard touchdown reception versus Duke in 1996. He also caught four passes for 32 yards in the Terps' victory over Georgia Tech. He came on strong during the spring and stepped into a leadership role.

A pair of redshirt freshmen—Moises Cruz and Omar Cheeseboro —will have the chance to earn extensive playing time in the Terps' multiple offensive sets. Cruz and Cheeseboro, listed one-two, respectively, at one of the receiver positions, could form a lethal duo and possibly surprise many defenders in the ACC this season. Both are quick off the line and have soft hands—characteristics of former Terps Jermaine Lewis and Geroy Simon, who stand first and second, respectively, among all-time Maryland receivers.

Redshirt junior Keon Russell, one of the Terps' most athletic players, has moved to wide receiver from quarterback and is expected to earn playing time. He came off the bench at Duke to lead the Terps to victory at quarterback in 1996.

Incoming freshmen Tony Jackson and Doug Patterson will add depth to the position.

Tight Ends

Tim Brown, who started two games at tight end in 1996, enters the fall as the starter. Though he did not catch a pass, he earned valuable playing time and experience. This season as the Terps move to a more traditional formation, which will utilize the tight end more often, Brown should see more passes come his way.

Redshirt freshman Mike Hull, who made big strides in the blocking and catching departments, will also look to play an expanded role at the position. Josh Hough, a redshirt senior who lined up quite often at the tight end position in 1996, should also see more passes. He will compete for significant playing time if he can completely recover from early spring knee surgery which held him out of spring practice.

Freshman, Matt Murphy, along with senior Marlon Clary, should also play a part in the development of the tight end position.

Defensive Line

Unquestionably, the most talent-laden unit on the team this season is the defensive line. Each of the four players who will start this season help form the basis of one of the strongest defensive fronts in recent memory in College Park. Three of the four players slated to start have extensive experience—not only in terms of games played but also in terms of games started.

A pair of redshirt seniors, Johnnie Hicks and Anthony Jenkins, will anchor the line from the tackle positions. Another pair of seniors, Eric Ogbogu and Eric Hicks, will stabilize it from the end positions. Not only are the starters on the line as strong as ever, but the group of reserves could step in and start at any time.

Previewing the Terps

Johnnie Hicks, who will start for the third consecutive season, has led the down linemen in tackles in three of the last four years and had seven tackles for minus yardage last season. He has six career quarterback sacks and has averaged 60 tackles per season during his career. Redshirt sophomore Delbert Cowsette, one of the bright young players in the ACC, will be the back-up at the position.

Jenkins will get the call to start for the first time after enjoying the best spring of his career. Senior Ramon Oliveras worked his way into the main line rotation last season and looks to make a lasting impression in 1997.

Redshirt senior Eric Hicks recorded 43 tackles and four quarterback sacks a year ago and has developed into one of the more solid defensive ends in the ACC. Hicks' athleticism and power often allows him to find his way into the opponents' offensive backfield. Redshirt senior Jason Brown, who has been impressive on special teams during his career at Maryland, will get his chance to prove himself. His solid play during the spring elevated his position on the depth chart to where he will be a factor in the Terps' defensive game plan.

Two-time All-ACC selection Eric Ogbogu and redshirt junior Rasheed Simmons have joined forces to form one of the more potent defensive end combinations in the ACC. Both players possess the height, speed and athleticism to keep opposing quarterbacks awake at night and they have the ability to disrupt many things an opponent may attempt during a game. Entering the fall, Ogbogu, Hicks and Simmons can expect to share playing time at those two positions with Brown contributing significantly.

Redshirt sophomore Eric Calendine was impressive last season as he appeared in five games and enters the year as a top reserve at the position. Freshman Julian Hambrick, redshirt freshman Jason McCauley and redshirt junior Chris Hayes will also add depth to the position. Newcomers Melvin Fowler, Jr., Kris Jenkins and Derrick Jones will join the Terps.

Linebackers

Eric Barton is a junior and that's bad news for Maryland's opponents. He became only the second player in school history to lead the team in tackles as a sophomore and returns as the leader of the linebackers. His 106 tackles were 25 more than any other Terp defender.

Barton grew up quickly last season and earned Honorable Mention All-ACC honors for his efforts. His 106 tackles included six tackles for minus yardage and two sacks. Redshirt senior Brett White, who played in all 11 games in 1996, will provide a more than ample back-up to Barton at the inside linebacker position. White had 24 tackles and three sacks last season.

Kendall Ogle, a redshirt junior, is slated to be the starting strong side linebacker. He was third on the team in tackles with a career-high 75 stops as he performed in a starter's role throughout the season. Ogle recorded a career-high 14 stops versus West Virginia. Redshirt senior Rhett Hesperich, a talented player who saw action in eight games last season, will back-up Ogle.

Redshirt sophomore Erwyn Lyght has the chance to make a name for himself early in his career. He played in 10 games last season and moves from a special teams player to a starting linebacker. Ryan Gick, a redshirt senior, will provide capable back-up at the position.

Redshirt sophomores Rashad Smith and Jomo Huggins, a pair of relative newcomers to the position, will add depth. Smith turned in one of the most exciting plays of the 1996 season with an interception versus Alabama-Birmingham, while Huggins is a converted defensive end.

The Terps signed incoming freshman Reggie Lewis to help bolster the depth at the position.

Secondary

Defensively there is no place on the field which is undergoing more change than the secondary. The entire starting unit must be replaced; a unit which included first-round NFL draft choice Chad Scott.

Henry Baker, a senior, and Paul Jackson, a redshirt junior, are slated to start at the strong and free safety positions, respectively. Baker started the final two games of the season at the position and recorded 10 tackles. He had 26 stops on the season and broke-up one pass.

Jackson gained valuable playing time in the defensive backfield last season when he recorded 14 tackles and broke up two passes. He is a talented cover man who will get better with experience.

Lewis Sanders, a true sophomore who also gained playing time in the crowded defensive backfield in 1996, returns as a starter at cornerback. He recorded six tackles, and gained valuable playing experience. Redshirt sophomore Lynde Washington will compete for playing time as the understudy to Sanders.

Troy Davidson was a receiver last season but enters the 1997 season as the starter at cornerback opposite Sanders. He was moved from offense to defense along with his back-up Clifton Crosby to make use of their outstanding athletic ability. A second of the Terps' transfer students, Bryn Boggs from Wisconsin, will also look to make an impact at the corner position. Boggs could also see time returning kicks.

Seniors Ernest Grier and Darryl Giles, juniors Quinzy Fraser and Jason Apolenis, redshirt freshman Shawn Forte and newcomers Chris Sanders and Tony Jackson could figure in prominent roles as freshmen. Todd Stewart and Daniel Eiskant will add depth to the position.

Despite a narrow 7-3 Virginia lead through three quarters, the fourth quarter attack by Virginia proved too much for the Terrapins before a crowd of 39,200 at Scott Stadium and a regional television audience on Jefferson Pilot. Virginia's Tiki Barber scored two touchdowns, and Tony Dingle intercepted a Ken Mastrole pass which resulted in a ten-yard touchdown run. Maryland's lone score of the afternoon came on a 45-yard field goal by Joe O'Donnell. Playing without the services of starting quarterback Brian Cummings, who separated his right throwing shoulder and split his chin open with two minutes remaining in the first quarter, the Maryland defense provided a tremendous effort as it held Heisman Trophy candidate Tiki Barber to one first down rushing. Ranked No. 14 in the nation in total defense, the Terps allowed only 221 total yards. The Terps' A.J. Johnson intercepted two Cavalier passes, while his Terp teammates allowed only 60 yards passing, the lowest total by a Virginia team versus Maryland since 1979.

Maryland and West Virginia played a tight, defensive battle before 54,542 and a national ESPN2 audience at rain-soaked Mountaineer Field. Ken Mastrole became the first quarterback in Maryland history to start a game as a freshman. Brian Cummings, who separated his shoulder two weeks earlier, relieved Mastrole on Maryland's third possession, 10:06 into the game. West Virginia scored its only touchdown of the game when running back Amos Zereoue scored on a one-yard scamper with 9:18 remaining in the second quarter. In the second half, the Terps' defense held West Virginia to a third quarter 38-yard field goal by Jay Taylor. Maryland's defense, entering the game ranked 14th nationally, was stingy in its own right as Eric Barton's 13 tackles helped hold West Virginia's offense to a total of 250 yards for the game. The Mountaineers were held to 3.6 yards per play. The Terps' defense kept Maryland close by denying West Virginia on 16 of 18 third down conversion attempts.

Running back Buddy Rodgers inched closer to 1,000 career rushing yards and Geroy Simon extended his consecutive games with a reception streak to 30, but their efforts weren't enough as N.C. State left Byrd Stadium with the victory. The game was seen by 32,550 fans and a regional television audience. In the first quarter, Simon extended his receptions streak to 30 games with a six-yard reception from Ken Mastrole and Rodgers had one carry for four yards, leaving him nine yards short of 1,000. After the scoreless first quarter, in which Maryland's ninth-ranked defense shined, N.C. State got on the board in the second quarter with a Carlos King one-yard touchdown run and a 20-yard field goal by Marc Primanti. After two N.C. State touchdown passes and a field goal, the Terps got on the board in the fourth quarter with a one-yard touchdown run by Brian Underwood, followed by a successful two-point conversion pass from Mastrole to Tim Brown.

Geroy Simon's first quarter, 60-yard reverse touchdown run was not enough, as the Terps fell to North Carolina before 47,000 at Keenan Stadium. Both teams scored touchdowns less than five minutes into the game, with UNC's coming on a Keldorf-to-Stevens touchdown pass three minutes into the game. But less than 45 seconds later, Simon's touchdown run knotted the game at seven. The touchdown run represented the third way Simon has scored a touchdown in his career. The run was also Maryland's longest scoring play since Simon's kickoff return in '94. It was also the longest running play of his career and the longest rushing play by a Maryland player since Mark Mason went 71 yards versus Syracuse on September 14, 1991. The catches also extended Simon's consecutive games with a reception streak to 31. On the defensive end, Eric Barton had 12 tackles and a sack, and Andre Hentz and Ratcliff Thomas contributed eight and seven tackles, respectively.

It was a record-setting day for Maryland before 30,212 fans at Byrd Stadium. The 52-0 victory was the greatest margin of victory versus an ACC opponent in Maryland history. Brian Cummings connected with Mancel Johnson for a 36-yard touchdown pass on Maryland's opening possession. With the help of 368 yards of offense and a stingy defense, the Terps opened up a 31-0 halftime lead. The barrage continued in the third quarter, as Buddy Rodgers scored his second rushing touchdown of the game, this one a three-yard run. When the dust settled, Maryland racked up 52 points, 589 yards of offense (including 355 rushing), and 189 total yards allowed on defense. Contributing to the offensive surge were Harold Westley with 120 yards rushing and Rodgers with 106 yards on the ground. It was the first time since November 17, 1984 that the Terp backfield yielded two 100+ yard rushers in the same game. Through the air, Brian Cummings passed for a career-high three touchdowns. The shutout was Maryland's first since 1989.

A blocked punt by Eric Ogbogu at the end of the third quarter led to the game-winning touchdown drive and the Terps held on for the 22-19 victory before 18,751 at Wallace Wade Stadium. Buddy Rodgers broke loose for a career-high 176 rushing yards-his second-consecutive 100-yard game. It was the most rushing yards by a Terp since Alvin Blount's 186-yard game in 1985. After falling behind 10-0 in the first quarter, the Terps stormed back with 17 points before the half. After two Joe O'Donnell field goals, Ken Mastrole found Kendrick Walton in the end zone to put the Terps ahead, 13-10. Following a 52-yard touchdown run by the Blue Devils, O'Donnell kicked a 42-yard field goal with :34 remaining in the half to bring the Terps within one. The defensive effort was bolstered by Eric Barton's career-high 14 tackles and Ratcliff Thomas' 10 tackles. Rodgers started what Ogbogu finished with an 11-yard touchdown run 22 seconds into the final quarter, putting the Terps on top for good.

The Thursday night game, broadcast on ESPN, was the Terps' fourth nationally-televised game of the season. Joe O'Donnell put the Terps on top with a 21-yard field goal with 4:16 left in the first quarter. After a Georgia Tech field goal tied the score early in the second quarter, the Terps retaliated less than one minute later as Cummings found Geroy Simon in the end zone from three yards out to put the Terps up 10-3. The Terps built their lead to 10 after O'Donnell's 21-yard field goal. Cummings connected with new-found target Troy Davidson on eight catches for 80 yards, both career-highs. Orlando Strozier's two interceptions in the last 3:30 of the fourth quarter preserved the Terp victory. Ratcliff Thomas and Eric Barton's team-high eight tackles helped hold Tech's 180-yard per game rushing attack to a season-low 78 yards.

The Terps took the lead with only 2:32 elapsed in the game when Cummings found a streaking Troy Davidson for the 31-yard touchdown play. During that drive, Simon caught two passes for 31 yards, giving him 2,016 for his career and a place in the Terrapins' record books. After two scores by the third-ranked Seminoles, Joe O'Donnell pushed his consecutive games with a field goal streak to five with a 41-yard field goal with 11:35 to play before the half. Eric Barton collected nine tackles, giving him 10 games in which he racked up eight tackles or more for the season. Barton's team-leading 103 tackles made him the 11th player in school history to eclipse the 100-tackle mark on a season. Chad Scott intercepted two passes in his last collegiate game.

The Atlantic Coast Conference

Consistency. It's the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's world of intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Founded on May 8, 1953 and now in its 45th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not just mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Atlantic Coast Conference schools have captured 59 NCAA and AIAW Championships, including 27 championships in men's sports and 32 in women's sports. In addition, 100 men and 24 women have earned the coveted title of NCAA Champion.

The University of Maryland and the ACC had an immediate impact on the national collegiate football scene in the fall of 1953 when the Terrapins claimed the first of what would be four national football championships.

The ACC is one of only two conferences to capture three or more national football championships since 1980. Clemson laid claim to the league's second national championship in 1981 and Georgia Tech followed suit in 1990 while Florida State pocketed title number four in 1994.

The nine schools that take the field under the banner of the ACC have produced 322 First or Second-Team football All-Americans and 49 First-Team Academic All-Americans. ACC teams have had 1,358 players selected in the annual professional football draft, including 90 first round selections. A year ago, 164 players from the nine current ACC schools played in the NFL during the regular season and playoffs.

If success is measured in terms of wins and losses, then the ACC over the years has proven itself to be among the elite in Division I-A football. The ACC remains as the nation's winningest bowl conference as the nine current league teams are a combined 76-66-5 (.534) in post-season play, including a 22-16-1 mark since 1987.

Two teams, Florida State and Georgia Tech, are among the nation's winningest bowl teams. Among teams with 16-or-more bowl appearances, the Yellow Jackets are No. 1 with a 17-8 (.680) post-season record while the Seminoles are fifth at 15-8-2 (.640).

Outstanding Academics

The ACC also stands at the forefront of intercollegiate athletics in terms of academic accomplishments of its student athletes. Eleven times in the past 17 years, an ACC member school has claimed the CFA Academic Achievement Award which is awarded to the CFA member institution with the highest graduation rate among members of its football team.

This past year, Duke, for the ninth time, received the CFA Award with a perfect 100 percent graduation rate. In addition four other ACC institutions—Florida State, North Carolina, Virginia and Wake Forest were accorded honorable mention for having graduation rates of 70 percent or better.

1996-97 In Review

The 1996-97 academic year concluded with the league pocketing three more national team titles and four individual NCAA crowns. In all, the ACC has won 26 national team titles in the last seven years.

The ACC's 1996-97 national champions were Maryland in women's lacrosse and North Carolina in women's soccer and field hockey. In addition the ACC had two other teams participate in national title games —Florida State in football and Maryland in men's lacrosse. Overall, the ACC posted a 54-48 (.529) mark in NCAA Tournament play.

The ACC played at least one team in the Top 10 nationally in 16 of the 24 sports sponsored by the league. Other records of note during the 1996-97 season include 84 teams participating at NCAA Championships, four bowl teams and 35 top 10 showings.

Eight ACC teams in six different sports, representing five of the nine member institutions, earned a No. 1 ranking during the course of the past academic year.

The ACC Academic honor roll record was broken for the 11th-straight year in 1995-96 as 1,410 student-athletes were recognized for their work in the classroom.

The Championships

With the addition of women's lacrosse in 1997, the ACC will conduct championship competition in 24 sports during the 1997-98 academic year - 12 for men and 12 for women.

The first conference championship was held in swimming on February 25, 1954. The league's inaugural men's basketball championship tournament was March 4-6, 1954. The tournament drew 36,00 fans over three days in the Greensboro Coliseum. The 1998 ACC Tournament, the 42nd annual tournament, will return to the Greensboro Coliseum, March 5-8. The coliseum has played host to 14 previous tournaments, with the last coming in 1988. All eight games of the nation's most prestigious college basketball tournament will be televised nationally by ESPN.

The ACC sponsors men's championships' in basketball, football, cross country, soccer, indoor and outdoor track, wrestling, baseball, swimming, tennis, golf and lacrosse. Women's sports were initiated at the conference level in 1977. The league will sponsor championships for women in basketball, field hockey, soccer, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, tennis, golf, lacrosse and softball.

A History

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953 at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C. with seven charter members—Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, N.C. State, South Carolina and Wake Forest - drawing up the conference bylaws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953 during the Southern Conference's annual meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C. where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name officially became the Atlantic Coast Conference.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia. The first, and only, withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971 when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The conference operated with seven members until April 3, 1978 when Georgia Tech was admitted. The Atlanta school withdrew from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991 with the addition of Florida State.

ACC Bowl Alliance Tie-in

The Bowl Alliance was formed in 1995 to create a mechanism for providing college football fans with the best possible bowl games, including a game between the two top-ranked college football teams, when possible, and to maximize the number of opportunities for a variety of high quality bowl match-ups.

The Fed-Ex Orange Bowl, Nokia Sugar Bowl and Tostitos Fiesta Bowl have joined with the Atlantic Coast, the Big East Football, Big 12, Big Ten, Pacific 10 and Southeastern conferences and the University of Notre Dame to form the alliance.

The champions of the Atlantic Coast, Big East Football, Big 12 and Southeastern conferences will appear in one of the aforementioned bowl games following the 1997 season. The remaining two at-large positions may be filled by any other college football team eligible for postseason competition including those teams in the Big Ten and Pacific 10 not committed to the Rose Bowl, if they meet the following requirements:

1) It has won at least eight college football games during the most recently completed regular season; not to include wins in either the Pigskin and/or Kickoff Classic.

2) Is ranked among the Top 12 bowl eligible teams in the Associated Press or the CNN/USA Today final regular season polls.

Football Hall of Fame

Bob Ward National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame

Bob Ward weighed all of 165 pounds throughout his four-year playing career at Maryland and, even in the early 1950s, that was no size for a lineman. Especially a lineman who was a First-Team All-America middle guard on defense as a junior in 1950 and a First-Team offensive guard as a senior in 1951.

The forte of the Maryland teams of the early 1950s was consistency, a winning consistency. During Ward's four years, the team was a combined 32-7-1, winning two bowl games (1949 Gator over Missouri, 1951 Sugar over Tennessee to complete a perfect 10-0 season).

The awards and honors Ward earned as a Maryland player belie physical stature, but speak volumes about the man. He was the MVP of the 1949 Gator Bowl, Maryland's first bowl victory. He was the only player ever to earn All-America honors as both an offensive and defensive position player. He earned Southern Conference Player of the Year honors as a senior and was chosen Lineman of the Year by the Washington Touchdown Club and the Philadelphia Sportswriters Association in 1951.

Bob Ward was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in 1980.

Jack Scarbath National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame

Jack Scarbath is an integral part of Maryland football history. In his first start, the All-America quarterback scored the first touchdown in the new Byrd Stadium, a 21-yard run in the first game of the 1950 season.

Scarbath was the quarterback for Head Coach Jim Tatum's new Split T offense for three seasons (1950-1952). Scarbath led the Terps to a 24-4-1 record, including a perfect 10-0 record and Sugar Bowl victory in 1951. In that time, he rewrote the Terrapin record books. Scarbath completed 125 of 260 passes for 2,287 yards, an average of 18.3 yards for every completion.

After his senior season, Scarbath finished runner-up to Oklahoma's Billy Vessels in the voting for the Heisman Trophy, was a First-Team All-America quarterback and a first-round draft choice of the Washington Redskins.

He was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in 1983.

Jim Tatum National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame

In a brief time as a college football head coach, one season at North Carolina (1942, 5-2-2), one at Oklahoma (1946, 8-3, Gator Bowl victory over North Carolina State) and nine years at Maryland (1947-55, 73-15-4, 2-2-1 in bowl games), Jim Tatum had become a coaching legend.

Tatum's teams from 1950-1955 were 51-8-2, with a perfect 10-0 record and Sugar Bowl victory in 1951. The squad marked 10-0 regular season records in 1953 and 1955 before both teams were upset by Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl with the 1953 team the declared national champion.

Maryland enjoyed enormous success and has yet to regain the national heights of Jim Tatum's teams of the early 1950s. Tatum left to return to his alma mater, North Carolina, in 1956.

He was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in 1984.

Stan Jones National Football League Hall of Fame

Stan Jones was the starting right tackle on the Terp defense that allowed only 31 points during 10 regular season games in 1953. With Jones leading the way, Maryland recorded six shutouts and allowed only one team, Georgia, to score more than six points. He earned All-America honors that season and was chosen "Outstanding College Lineman of 1953" by the College Football Coaching Board.

After his All-America career as a Terp, he served 13 years in the National Football League. He played for the Chicago Bears for 12 seasons and finished his career as a Washington Redskin.

"I was very prepared for the NFL when I left Maryland," Jones said. "From my coaches who taught me football to my professors who taught me anatomy, physiology and weight training, I received a great education. I couldn't have picked a better place to go — they picked me and there was not a better place to be."

Stan Jones was inducted into the National Football League Hall of Fame on July 27, 1991.

Dick Modzelewski National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame Outland Trophy Winner

Through three All-America years at Maryland and 14 All-Pro years in the National Football League, Dick Modzelewski was always "Little Mo." At 6-0, 235 pounds during his playing days at Maryland, he was one of the bigger collegiate linemen during the early 1950s. He was the second Mo at Maryland, so he had to be "Little" to his older brother Ed, "Big Mo."

Dick Modzelewski played three years as defensive tackle for the Terps on the great teams which were 24-4-1. He would become Maryland's first winner of a major national honor when he received the Outland Trophy as the nation's top lineman in 1952.

Through his career at Maryland, the Terps fashioned a 22-game unbeaten streak. The "Little Mo" led defense allowed only 147 points with only four teams scoring better than a touchdown while six were shutout.

At the end of his senior season, Modzelewski was named to every All-America team and was awarded the Outland Trophy. He was a second-round draft choice of the Washington Redskins, while teammate Jack Scarbath was the Redskins' first pick. He spent 14 seasons in the National Football League, splitting time with the Redskins, the Pittsburgh Steelers, the New York Giants and Cleveland Browns. Modzelewski was an All-Pro and on NFL Championship teams with both the Giants (1956) and the Browns (1964). After retirement, he became a defensive line coach for Cincinnati, helping the Bengals to the 1982 Super Bowl.

Dick Modzelewski was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in 1993.

Randy White

National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame
National Football League Hall of Fame
Lombardi and Outland Trophies Winner

Randy White changed the look of football's defensive lines. At Maryland, and later in an All-Pro National Football League career with the Dallas Cowboys, he was regarded as the quickest defensive lineman to play the game. He could be in an opponent's backfield before a quarterback could make a hand-off.

In 1974, Randy White cleaned up the college football awards plate. He was honored with the Outland and Lombardi Trophies as the top collegiate lineman, was ACC Player of the Year, was an unanimous First-Team All-America choice, named the Delaware (his home state) Athlete of the Year and named the Amateur Athlete of the Year by the Philadelphia Sportswriters Association.

A first round draft choice of the Dallas Cowboys (the second player selected overall), White was an All-Pro performer throughout his career and shared Super Bowl MVP honors with Dallas teammate Harvey Martin when the Cowboys defeated Denver in Super Bowl XII.

No one else will wear "94" at Maryland—Randy White's number has been retired.

He was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame and the National Football League Hall of Fame in 1994.

Bob Pellegrini

National Football Foundation College Football Hall of Fame

Bob Pellegrini was recruited to Maryland as a quarterback, but made his name as one of college football's best linemen. In his first season, Pellegrini was a 6-2, 215 pound sophomore guard for the 1953 National Champion Terrapins. He would play guard again in 1954 in an era when players went both ways, before being switched to center for his senior year to fill a Terrapin void.

As a senior, Pellegrini led Maryland to its second 10-0 regular season and ACC Championship in three years as the Terps defeated defending National Champion UCLA. He was selected ACC Player of the Year, named consensus All-America and pictured as Herman Hickman's cover boy for Lineman of the Year in 1955.

Pellegrini led the Terps to a 27-4-1 record over his career with rankings in the Top 10 each season. He was the first pick in the National Football League draft by the Philadelphia Eagles. Pellegrini became one of the building blocks of an Eagle turnaround that took the team to the top of the football world. A losing team when he joined, the Eagles defeated Vince Lombardi's Green Bay Packers for the World Championship four years later with Bob Pellegrini at linebacker.

Bob Pellegrini was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in December 1996.

In front of the first capacity crowd in Gator Bowl history, 16,666, Maryland's Lu Gambino was a one man wrecking crew, rushing for 165 yards and scoring three touchdowns. Gambino's three scores propelled Maryland to a 20-7 lead, but Georgia reeled off 13 points in the fourth quarter to tie the game. The Bulldogs threatened to win the game in the closing seconds, but time ran out with Georgia on Maryland's four-yard line. Despite the tie, there was no question as to the game's most valuable player. Gambino won the Burkhalter Award, signifying the game's outstanding performer. Gambino was inducted into the Gator Bowl Hall of Fame in 1992.

Maryland came away from its first bowl game in 18 years a bitterly dissappointed team. The Maryland defense held the SEC's total offense leader scoreless and intercepted two Florida passes which led to the first 10 Maryland points. Maryland entered the 1977 Cotton Bowl with a perfect 11-0 record, but the hopes for a perfect season were dashed quickly when Houston scored 21 first quarter points en route to their 30-21 win. The Cougars rushed for a total of 320 yards in the game and 144 in the 21-point first quarter. The Terps cut the lead to 27-21 in the fourth quarter, but a 5:42 drive by the Cougars late in the quarter resulted in a field goal, slamming the door on any Terp comeback hopes.

MARYLAND TERRAPINS vs. TENNESSEE VOLUNTEERS

TENNESSEE RALLIES TO DEFEAT TERPS IN '83 CITRUS BOWL

The Tennessee Volunteers scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter to overcome a 20-16 deficit and defeat the Terps, 30-23, in the 1983 Citrus Bowl. Maryland took a four-point lead into the fourth quarter, thanks to outstanding play from reserve quarterback Frank Reich. Reich entered the game in the second quarter when starter Boomer Esiason suffered a shoulder injury. Reich's one mistake of the day, an interception early in the fourth quarter, set the Volunteers up on Maryland's 14-yard line and led to a Tennessee touchdown run that was the difference in the game.

MARYLAND TERRAPINS vs. TENNESSEE VOLUNTEERS

MARYLAND OVERCOMES 21-POINT DEFICIT TO DEFEAT TENNESSEE IN '84 SUN BOWL

The Maryland Terrapins were truly the comeback team of 1984. Maryland trailed Tennessee 21-0 at halftime and erupted for a Terrapin bowl record 22 points in the third quarter. Frank Reich's third quarter touchdown pass to Ferrell Edmunds put the Terps up 22-21, but the ensuing kick off was returned for a touchdown by the Volunteers, to give them a 27-22 lead. Then with 8:03 left to play, the Terps' offense pounded out a 5:05 drive that was capped off by a one-yard scoring run by Rick Bandanjek for the game-winning touchdown.

Louisiana State's Chris Boniol hit a 29-yard field goal with no time remaining in the 1990 Independence Bowl, allowing the Bulldogs to escape Shreveport with a 34-34 tie. However on the ensuing kickoff, Tech's Lorenzo Baker returned the kick 41 yards to start the Bulldog drive on the Maryland 39-yard line. Five plays and 28 yards later, Boniol kicked his second field goal of the game to even the score.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

University of Maryland

The Campus

The University of Maryland, College Park, is the most comprehensive institution of higher education, research and service in the state. The university offers 98 undergraduate majors, 87 master's programs and 68 doctoral programs in 13 colleges and schools.

The university is one of only 30 public research universities that are members of the prestigious 58-member Association of American Universities and the only public institution in the Maryland-D.C. area with a membership in the nation's most distinguished honor society, Phi Beta Kappa. It is classified as a Research-1 university by the Carnagie Foundation by virtue of the range of its baccalaureate programs, the amount of federal support received and the number of doctoral degrees awarded each year, sharing that honor with the top research universities in the country.

Among the public universities in the Association of American Universities, College Park ranks among the top percentage of African-American undergraduate students. In addition, the university has the largest number of African-Americans and other minority members among its peers.

History

The University of Maryland was founded in 1807 in Baltimore as a faculty-owned College of Medicine. The medical school was considered one of the top schools in the country, attracting notable professors and lecturers from throughout the world. In its beginning, tuition cost $140, grades were sent home weekly to parents and students could obtain room and board for $300 annually.

Five years later, the growing institution was renamed the University of Maryland. Despite the name, the university was not considered a state institution as it was still owned and operated by the faculty. Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, the first dental school in America, became part of the university in 1840, awarding the first Doctor of Dental Surgery (D.D.S) degree in 1841.

In 1859, the Maryland Agricultural College, which would evolve into the University of Maryland, College Park, was opened under a charter secured by a group of Maryland planters in 1856. In addition to spending one hour each day hoeing or plowing on the college farm, students took a broad range of courses in ancient and modern languages, natural sciences, English and mathematics. After a disastrous fire on campus in 1912, the state acquired the college and rebuilt it.

In 1920, the state legislature combined the College Park institution with the professional schools in Baltimore to form an expanded University of Maryland. The entity eventually grew to include campuses in Baltimore County, on the Eastern Shore and the worldwide University College, a continuing education institution.

The following decades saw the increasing growth of student population, excellence in programs and curricula and the burgeoning of the University of Maryland, College Park, into a nationally recognized research institution.

July 1, 1988, marked the dawn of a new era in higher education the state of Maryland, as the five components of the university were merged with six other state universities and colleges to form the University of Maryland System and College Park secured its flagship status with a mandate to become one of the pre-eminent research universities in the nation.

Research

The unique role of American research universities in advancing science and technology has kept the United States in the forefront of innovation and product development. Research dollars from federal and state agencies, corporations and foundations fuel much of the basic and applied research activity of the University of Maryland College Park's faculty and graduate students.

The university has unique facilities, research centers and institutes that attract new research projects and funding, as well as provide expanded knowledge in business, science and technology. The A. James Clark School of Engineering houses the Glenn L. Martin

Wind Tunnel—the most advanced aerodynamic testing facility of its kind on any university campus - and the Natural Buoyancy Facility, which simulates weightlessness for space research, the only such facility on a university campus. Other specialized facilities include: Computer Vision Laboratory; Bioprocess-Scale up Laboratory; Laboratory for Ion Beam Research and Application; Superconductivity Research Center, Laboratory for Plasma and Fusion Studies; Psycholonguistics Laboratory; Computer-Assisted Cartographic Laboratories; Developmental Psychology Laboratory and the Center on Aging.

Service

Programs of public service are central to the overall mission of the university. The philosophy is reflected in the wide array of programs and initiatives that benefit the state's business, agriculture and education communities.

With more than 90 high technology firms in the three-county area of Montgomery, Prince Geroge's and Frederick counties, the university has found abundant opportunity to extend its business and technology outreach programs to the region. Many of these programs are part of the Engineering Research Center, which operates the Technology Advancement Program and the Maryland Industrial Partnerships, all programs designed to provide Maryland entrepreneurs and small businesses with research facilities, technical assistance, administrative support and access to technology that will advance their economic base.

The Institute for Systems Research has formed partnerships with major corporations, including Lockheed Martin, Westinghouse, BF Goodrich, Hughes Aircraft and Dupont to apply advanced systems research to solving industry problems in the fields of communications, manufacturing, controls and robotics.

The University of Maryland features a diversity of cultural and recreational activities. Four art galleries, more than 200 annual musical performances and countless dance and theater productions, expose audiences to the broadest range of programs in the arts. And intercollegiate, club and intramural sports provide students of all levels an opportunity to participate as spectators or athletes.

The Libraries

The seven libraries at the university constitute the largest university research library institution in the Washington Metropolitan area, providing vital resources to researchers, visiting scholars, and businesses throughout the region. The libraries' holdings include more than 2.5 million volumes, 24,000 subscriptions to periodicals and nearly 5 million items available in microfilm format. University libraries also offer several nationally and internationally recognized special collections such as the International Piano Archives at Maryland, the National Trust for Historic Preservation and the National Public Broadcasting Archives.

The Alumni

Graduates of the university go on to distinguished careers in many fields. Chosen from thousands of qualified alumni, an inaugural group was inducted into the University of Maryland Alumni Association Hall of Fame in 1995. They included 21 outstanding individuals who have brought and continue to bring, great honor to their alma mater. Their achievements are as varied as their lives, but they all have one thing in common: a degree from the University of Maryland, College Park.

History of College Park

Just after the American Revolution, the state of Maryland established its first two colleges at Chestertown and Annapolis. By the 1850s, at least 30 little colleges had sprung-up over the state, many with state support, but many of them disappearing within a few years. Then in 1859 a different kind of institution appeared at College Park—the Maryland Agricultural College—the third such college in the world, created mainly for farmers' sons. The college was established by Charles Benedict Calvert, a wealthy planter from nearby Riversdale—now Riverdale—and later a congressman. Calvert built a handsome Gothic dormitory-classroom structure located in a grove of trees near the present Morrill Hall, and he divided the land down to the Baltimore-Washington Turnpike into small plots where each of the 50-or-so students experimented with a different crop. After the Civil War the institution became a land-grant college, with small appropriations from Washington. The little college began to grow about 1900 when agricultural experiments began to bring prosperity to Maryland, and when the college expanded its offerings into engineering, business and the liberal arts. In 1912 the old Gothic building burned, and the state provided modern structures. Women were admitted to the campus, and graduate work began. In 1920 the college combined with the long established professional schools of Baltimore and changed its name to the University of Maryland. Growth accelerated after 1935 when the politically astute football coach, H.C. "Curley" Byrd, became president, added scores of new programs, and won national football championships. In the 1950s and 1960s President Wilson H. Elkins maintained the rapid growth, and College Park became one of the largest campuses in the nation. President Elkins, a Rhodes Scholar, transformed the institution's public image to one of high academic integrity. In the 1970s and 1980s the University's graduate and research programs flourished. In 1988 the General Assembly of Maryland combined six state colleges with the five campuses of the University of Maryland, and specifically charged College Park with the role of leadership in the revamped system.

University Traditions

Testudo is a Diamondback turtle. Like some other famous personages born into the Depression of the 1930s, the derivation of his name is cloudy. But it is likely that his moniker is derived from the scientific classification for turtle (testudines). Or the top turtle could be named after testudo gigantia, a species native to the African nation of Seychelles and one of its remote islands, Aldabra. Or the name could have come from a dictionary definition that says the word, testudo, was derived from the Latin and meant a shelter held over the head of Roman soldiers —like a tortoise shell. These explanations are a long way from the Chesapeake Bay where the Diamondback lives.

When Testudo had his coming out on May 23, 1933, he was thrown into a world filled with intimidating mascots—Wildcats, Tigers, Devils, Wolves, Bears—thought up over a half-century of intercollegiate competition. The University of Maryland, College Park was consolidated from different state schools in 1920 to form the base of today's wide-ranging state system, and the remodeled Maryland needed a flag carrier to do battle with Wahoos, Lions and Generals.

Dr. H.C. Byrd, a football coach who later became University President, recommended the Diamondback as mascot in 1932 in response to the student newspaper's search for an "official" leader. Byrd's childhood in Crisfield, Md., apparently included skirmishes with this brand of snapping turtle, indigenous to the Bay. The school paper was in fact already called The Diamondback, and when the Class of 1933 stepped forward with the idea of giving the University a permanent bronzed version as its graduation gift, Testudo's family was in to stay.

Maryland had been referring to itself as Old Liners, yet another name whose derivation no one seems sure of. Historians are in a scrimmage over whether the nickname is a reference to a Revolutionary War Troop of Maryland soldiers who distinguished themselves on the field of battle, or they feel it could refer to a squabble with Pennsylvanians over just where the border between the two states should be.

The Class of '33 raised money for casting a Diamondback by holding its Senior Prom on campus to save money on expenses. And the yearbook and Student Government Association chipped-in. Edwin C. Mayo, Class of '04 and a former quarterback, donated at cost the 300 pound bronzed beauty as President of Gorham Manufacturing in Providence, R.I. Robert J. Hill cast the inspired sculpture accomplished by company artist Aristide Cianfrani. Further turtleization came when the student yearbook, The Reveille, became The Terrapin in 1935. Newspapers, even then exploring every angle, shortened Terrapin to Terp for headline writing ease when it wasn't trying to cram Old Liner into a single column head. The name was in place; now came the stuff of legend.

The Stuff of Legend

The nicely thought out plans that made Testudo an instant hit did have a flaw. Putting Mr. T in front of the campus gym, Ritchie Coliseum, exposed Testudo to every road agent wearing enemy colors. Ritchie was right on U.S. Route 1, then the principal North-South highway along the Eastern Seaboard. When a less dignified opponent needed something extra against the turtle and his troops, they practiced emotional blackmail, and kidnapped him.

That was not the worst of it. They painted his golden skin enemy colors, and defaced his pedestal which was only to have the block M on it. Instead, opponents painted illegitimate JH's or GW's or V's or NC's on his nest. A riot took place when Johns Hopkins students kidnapped the handsome reptile in 1947; 200 police were called to the Baltimore campus to control the justified anger of College Park students. Two years later, the nifty shelled crusader was found on the lawn of a Virginia (The University) fraternity house, whose occupants smugly called President Byrd with the message to get Testudo off their lawn. Of course Byrd obliged, and soon after Testudo was hidden in the campus carpentry shop where he was less inspirational, but a whole lot safer.

The second stadium bearing Byrd's name was built in 1950,

ARCO's book, Ivy League Programs at State School Prices, rated the University Honors program among the nine best in the nation.

US News and World Report rated Maryland's business and engineering programs in the top 25 among all public and private institutions.

Last year, faculty researchers at College Park were awarded almost $150 million in competitively funded research programs and development awards, an increase of 83 percent since 1988.

No other university in the mid-Atlantic region has more top-20 graduate programs in computer, mathematical, physical sciences and engineering disciplines than College Park, according to a recent analysis by the National Research Council.

and in 1951 Testudo, sans coats of rivals' paint, took his perch in front of the Byrd Stadium football team house. He had beaten back all who would wrong him, and to make sure he would not travel again, he was fed 700 pounds of cement and had his body attached to a new pedestal by long steel rods.

With his permanent nesting came success for Maryland. Acting as guardian to waves of Terp competitors, the national football championship came, as did several ACC titles in the 1950s. His popularity among the students might have been the undoing of success, however. When McKeldin Library was constructed in the middle of campus, the student body demanded Testudo's full-time presence in the center of day-to-day activities. Testudo had gone far beyond being just a symbol for athletics. He was a campus symbol. Students carefully carried him up the hill to the main College Green and the library, and he was bolted to a new bed of stone in the early 1960s.

Coincidence or not, football did have a downturn in the 1960s with Testudo absent. In the 1970s, when a costumed Testudo started to roam the sideline, success was returning. The furry Testudo reigned over unrivaled ACC football prowess, and sent Terps out to the four corners of the football world for bowls and intersectional clashes.

In 1992, a bronze duplicate to Testudo was created and installed just outside the new Football Complex locker room door. As the football team takes the field the team congregates around the bronze Terrapin, and then all touch his nose for good luck. In 1995, Testudo was again duplicated as a bronze Terrapin statue was placed in Cole Field House as part of the lobby refurbishment.

Joel Meisner Co. of Farmingdale, N.Y., created the duplicates. Two men spent two days in June of 1992 pouring a rubberized material over Testudo as it sat in front of McKeldin Library, followed by a wax mold on top. After a day to let the molds set, the wax was broken and easily removed. The rubber mold, which actually recreated Testudo, was painstakingly peeled away from the bronze and taken back to Meisner's factory where the first duplicate was created using the Lost Wax method.

While Testudo was being copied by Meisner Co. in front of McKeldin, the research library was undergoing extensive refurbishment. As part of the new interior and exterior McKeldin received, the original Testudo, was given a new pedestal and his bronze coat was cleaned. The Class of '33, which created Testudo in the first place, used its 60th reunion to dedicate the rejuvenated campus symbol.

Fifty-nine years ago, the Diamondback Turtle Gorham used as a model for the shelled wonder had a ribbon attached to it at the dedication. The ribbon was tied to the canvas covering the statue. The Diamondback moved forward, and revealed the splendor of his larger, bronzed brother. But no one rushed the smaller Diamondback in his duties. All in attendance were true believers who knew what many unfaithful have discovered about Terrapins. They bite.

President William E. Kirwan

After 25 years of service as a professor and administrator at the University of Maryland at College Park and following a national search, Dr. William English Kirwan was appointed president of the university on February 1, 1989. He served as acting president of the university from August 1, 1988, until the time of his appointment as president.

Dr. Kirwan joined the university in 1964 as an assistant professor of mathematics. He rose through the faculty ranks as associate professor (1968-1972), professor (1972-present), and chair of the Department of Mathematics (1977-1981).

In 1981, he was appointed vice chancellor for academic affairs, College Park's chief academic post. As vice chancellor, Dr. Kirwan raised admission standards, increased the number of merit scholarships and graduate fellowships, and established an academic planning process.

During his tenure as president of the university, Dr. Kirwan has played a pivotal role in all of the university's most significant initiatives, including: an increased emphasis on undergraduate education; selective enhancement of academic programs; recruitment and retention of distinguished faculty; achievement of diversity goals for underrepresented minorities; and the successful completion of the university's first capital campaign.

Dr. Kirwan is known for his ability to see beyond the institution's day-to-day problems, and for his talent as a consensus builder among the large and diverse campus community. Under his leadership, the university undertook a major restructuring of its academic organization, going from a divisional system to a more traditional system of colleges and schools. Subsequently, when the state's economic decline forced a reduction of this university's budget, he oversaw a streamlining of the university's academic offerings through the elimination of a college, seven departments, and 32 degree programs.

Dr. Charles Wellford is the faculty representative to the ACC, and chair of the University Athletic Council. Dr. Wellford is the former chair of the Criminal Justice Department on campus, which is the highest rated among U.S. schools.

Dr. Kirwan is a member of various honorary and professional societies, including Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, the American Mathematical Society, and the Mathematical Association of America. He is the co-editor of the book Advances in Complex Analysis, and the author of many published articles on mathematical research. He served as an editor of the Proceedings of the American Mathematical Society from 1977 to 1985. He chaired the Mathematical Sciences in the Year 2000 Committee, a task force created by the National Research Council (NRC) to improve mathematics education at the nation's colleges and universities during the next decade, and he was a charter member of NRC's Committee on Undergraduate Science Education.

Dr. Kirwan is a member of numerous boards, including the Presidents Council of the Ford Foundation, the Board of Directors of the American Association of Colleges and Universities, the Council for International Exchange of Scholars (the Fullbright Program), the World Trade Center Institute, the Baltimore Council of Foreign Affairs, the Greater Washington Board of Trade, and the Suburban Maryland High Tech Council. He was recently elected to the Board of Directors of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges (NASULGC), and to the Presidents Commission of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA). He also is past chair of the NASULGC's Commission on Oceans and Atmosphere.

President William E. Kirwan

Among other volunteer activities in the community, Dr. Kirwan chairs the Prince George's County Board of Education's Citizens Advisory Committee, and chaired the County's 1996 United Way Campaign. He also serves on the Board of Directors of the Maryland Citizens for the Arts.

Because of his contributions to higher education, he was named Officer in the Order of Leopold II by the Belgium Government and elected to the University of Kentucky's Hall of Distinguished Alumni. He recently received the World Trade Center Institute's prestigious Governor's Award as the State's International Leader of the Year.

Noted for his enormous energy and long work days, Dr. Kirwan regularly finds time to teach an undergraduate class. Whenever possible, he schedules time to enjoy classical music concerts and tries to find an hour or two each week to escape to a convenient tennis court where he is known as a very competitive tennis player.

Dr. Kirwan is married to Patricia Harper of Lexington, Kentucky. They have two children: a son, William E. Kirwan III, a Washington architect who earned his baccalaureate and master's degrees from the university, and a daughter, Ann Elizabeth, who also graduated from the university with a degree in journalism.

Deborah A. Yow, Athletic Director

Deborah A. Yow has led Terrapin athletics back to balanced budgets, to a high level of productivity, and to a vigorous commitment to excellence throughout its operations.

When she was appointed as Maryland Director of Athletics in 1994, Deborah Yow began immediately to set higher standards of administrative efficiency, more effective budget controls, better customer service and old-fashioned hard work. She challenged the Terrapin Athletic Department to, "...raise our sights and sharpen our tools...to work hard and work smart...to recognize that our only limitations are those which we place upon ourselves."

Yow launched a tenacious drive towards five strategic goals for Terrapin Athletics:

1) Generate significantly higher revenues through increased corporate sponsorship, aggressive marketing and more effective fundraising.

2) Boost the graduation rate of Terrapin student-athletes to well above that of the general student population of the University, and careful compliance with ACC and NCAA rules.

3) Raise the level of competitive achievement nationally and in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

4) Develop a streamlined, highly effective athletics organization.

5) Provide outstanding customer service.

In the three years since that time, the Maryland Athletic Department has clearly responded and has taken the following significant strides:

▶ Has balanced all three of its budgets (first Terrapin balanced budgets in 10 years — 1984-1994).

▶ Increased graduation rates for student-athletes to almost 70%, above that of the general student population.

▶ After a four year drought in which Maryland did not win a single ACC tournament championship in any sport, in 1996-97 the Terrapins won an impressive FOUR (4) ACC tournament championships (in Men's Soccer, Volleyball, Women's Lacrosse and Softball).

In 1996-97 the Terps sent a remarkable 11 of its 24 sports teams to NCAA/postseason tournaments - the most in Terrapin athletics history in one season (Men's Basketball, Women's Basketball, Volleyball, Men's Soccer, Women's Soccer, Field Hockey, Wrestling, Women's Lacrosse, Men's Lacrosse, Gymnastics and Softball). The Women's Lacrosse team won the NCAA National Championship for the third consecutive season. Also, individual Terrapin athletes qualified for NCAA tournament competition in Men's Swimming and Cross Country — giving the Terps an enviable team and individual participation in 13 NCAA/postseason championship tournaments in 1996-97. This is a record which is not frequently achieved among the 306 NCAA Division I athletic programs in the United States.

Hired in 1994 by President William E. Kirwan, Athletic Director Deborah A. Yow received a contract extension through the year 2002 this past July.

▶ Has engineered the department from a debt-ridden, underachieving organization to a responsive and financially sound model — with a clear vision and a drive toward national prominence.

▶ Increased membership in the Terrapin Club has increased and department revenues from all sources have increased significantly.

▶ Marked improvement in employee production and improvement.

▶ Formed an employee "Committee on Quality in the Workplace" — to recommend initiatives to improve working conditions and to design programs to recognize the value of our athletics employees.

▶ Accelerated the push to improve facilities throughout athletics.

Across all sports, our Terps gained a prestigious national ranking in the upper 10% of all NCAA Division I athletics programs during 1996-97 — the highest ever in this comprehensive national ranking (at the end of the Fall sports season of seven men's and women's teams, Maryland was ranked No. 3 nationally).

The thorough and rigorous NCAA Certification Review of University of Maryland athletics rated the department with a strong approval rating, citing the strength of leadership, fiscal management and the soundness of its Title IX plan, among its numerous strengths.

The past three years have been a period of notable improvement and strengthening for Maryland athletics. The Terrapin ship still faces strong headwinds, but is no longer battered by the storm of insolvency and indirection. Indeed, over the past three years the $6.8 million accumulated debt (prior to 1994) has been reduced to $4.9 million, and the $41 million facilities debt has been stricken to $34 million. In the ACC and across the nation, the Maryland athletic program is seen as strong and highly competitive. The ship is now on course and is steadily picking up speed.

Recently, Yow shared the following observations with the Council of Deans at the University of Maryland: "We run a tight ship in Maryland athletics. We are fully committed to balanced budgets, high academic achievement, competitive excellence and outstanding customer service. We will not accept less of ourselves. We are focused on becoming one of the top 10 athletic programs in the nation every year. That is our vision and our uncompromising goal."

In that presentation, Yow concluded by saying, "We have the finest coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperation that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets and our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all our successes ... and the basis of our bright future."

Regarding the status of the Terrapin football program our Director of Athletics realistically points out: "The new coaching staff inherits a 5-6 team which lost over half of its starters on offense and defense. That includes two of our best defensive lineman, our best linebacker and the entire defensive backfield, along with a number of key offensive players. Clearly, they have their work cut out for them in rebuilding this football program. But this group of coaches (who have been to over 40 bowls and three Super Bowls among them) will get this job done with integrity, intelligence, experience and skill. In time, Byrd Stadium will be consistently sold out, and we will be back in postseason bowls. The train is about to leave the station. Terrapin fans need to get their season tickets while they are still available - and get on board."

Yow, who is a member of the NCAA Management Council and other prestigious national committees and groups, is a leader in collegiate athletics today. With this goal-oriented, proactive professional leading Terrapin athletics, the University of Maryland clearly has one of America's more capable and respected athletic directors.

Major Gift Fundraising

Maryland Educational Foundation

The mission of the Maryland Educational Foundation (MEF) is to provide scholarship endowment funds in support of the University of Maryland Athletic Departments annual athletic scholarship expenses. The financial support generated by the MEF will allow Terrapin student-athletes to receive a quality education while remaining competitive in their respective sports. To accomplish this, the MEF has established specific goals and objectives to achieve the fundraising intentions of the organization.
The MEF has raised financial support for Maryland Athletics for over 50 years and is a major arm of the department's deferred gift-giving program. Donors to the MEF Endowment fund have the foresight to know that investing in the future of a student-athlete is one of the most significant contributions you can make. By supporting talented, deserving student-athletes, you are ensuring that the legacy of excellence will continue and grow with each individual who lives the University of Maryland experience.

The vision of the MEF is to raise enough dollars through private gifts to build an endowment capable of funding each of the university's intercollegiate teams at the maximum number of scholarships allowed by the NCAA. Furthermore, while striving to attain this vision, the MEF will provide the highest quality of customer service to the donor and represent the University of Maryland in the highest regard.

What is an endowment? An endowment is a gift in which the principal is held in perpetuity, with only the income used, in part or whole, for expenses. To maximize investment growth and potential, the MEF under the guidance of professional investment managers, has a policy of pooling endowment funds whenever feasible. The MEF investment portfolio provides a diversified investment objective founded on discipline and prudent management that can assist to ensure future financial success for the Terrapin athletics program.

The MEF invites you to discuss gifts such as cash, securities, real estate, insurance, personal property, life income, gifts of pooled income funds, charitable remainder trusts, charitable gift annuities, wills and bequests. Athletic Major Gift Development Unit

The continued excellence of the University of Maryland Athletics program will be greatly enhanced by the support it receives through private gifts beyond the annual Terrapin Club contributions. Cash gifts for the improvement of capital projects truly distinguishes any great institution's athletic program, thus guaranteeing a future as rich as its past. It is with this in mind that the University of Maryland Foundation make available cash gifts to provide benefits to yourself and your family, while in addition assisting Terrapin athletics.

A gift of cash is the most critical type of donation to the Major Gifts Development Unit. These contributions enable the Athletic Department to refurbish existing facilities and build new ones. Our goal is to raise $1.5 million in each year over the next five years. We will do it with your help and contributions.

For information concerning a gift to the Major Gift Development Unit please contact Greg Manning, Director of Major Gifts or Cheryl Harrison, Director of Advancement Projects in the Athletic Advancement Office at (301) 314-7020.

The M Club

The M Club, one of the oldest organizations of its type in the country, was founded in 1923 by a group of letterwinners at the University of Maryland to encourage excellence in athletics. It is an organization of over 4,000 former University of Maryland varsity letterwinners with the goals to achieve the very best overall academic and athletic program for the varsity teams, to aid the athletes in making positive contributions to the community, to obtain and maintain funds for awards and scholarships, and to cultivate social contact and good sportsmanship among the wearers of the "M".

Your membership participation through the payment of annual dues enables you to receive the monthly TerpTalk for information about the current teams and news about your former teammates and receive discounts at various M Club functions while providing support to increase the scholarship endowment and support awards and recognition efforts for our student-athletes.

Many benefits are intangible, including the satisfaction of having lettered at a great university, and belonging to a unique and exclusive organization. University of Maryland letterwinners interested in the M Club should call David Diehl at (301) 314-5372.

Dr. Sacared Bodison

Dr. Stephen Fahey

The Sports Medicine staff is comprised of Head Team Physician David Linehan, Team Physicians Sacared Bodison and Steve Fahey of the Campus Health Center, and Sandy Worth and her staff of athletic trainers and student trainers.

Comprehensive preseason medical evaluations on all student-athletes are scheduled throughout the year and performed by the Campus Health Center staff. Problems detected are further evaluated by team physicians, sometimes with the help of our network of consulting specialists, before an athlete is cleared to participate.

Surveillance for detecting subsequent injuries and illnesses is spearheaded by the Certified Athletic Trainers who man the practice field and our three state-of-the-art athletic training rooms. Medical consultation is facilitated by the thrice weekly Sports Medicine Clinics Dr. Bodison and Dr. Fahey provide at the Football Training Room. Dr. Linehan adds a weekly on-site orthopaedic session in addition to providing sideline coverage for all football and home men's basketball games. Bodison and Fahey provide similar coverage for other high impact sports.

Dr. Joseph David Linehan, M.D.—Head Team Physician

Dr. Linehan is the head orthopaedic surgeon for Maryland's 24 intercollegiate athletic teams. He is in his first season as the Terps' head orthopaedic surgeon after serving as an associate with Dr. Stan Lavine who was Maryland's team physician for 35 years. He worked at the Campus Health Center from 1974 to 1976 before he entered orthopaedic surgery and Dr. Lavine chose him to work with Maryland athletics. Dr. Linehan has taken care of Maryland student-athletes for 22 years.

Linehan attends all football games and all home basketball games. He also travels to numerous basketball games throughout the season.

He has been in the private practice of orthopaedic surgery since 1979 here in the metropolitan area. He received his board certification from the American Board of Orthopaedic Surgeons in 1980.

In addition, he is an orthopaedic consultant for the NFL Players Association.

Linehan earned his bachelor's degree from the University of Virginia in 1966 and his doctorate from the Medical College of Virginia in 1970. He also served his internship and residency at the Medical College of Virginia Hospitals from 1970 to 1972. He has also authored four publications.

Sandy Worth—Head Athletic Trainer

She was responsible for 14 teams, which included the nationally competitive women's basketball, lacrosse, and field hockey teams, along with the wrestling and men's and women's swimming and diving teams. Worth also supervised the instruction of the student trainers working with the various athletic teams. She was the trainer for four national championship women's lacrosse teams and one field hockey national championship team. In addition, she was the trainer for the women's basketball team when it won eight ACC titles.

Worth was the head trainer for the 1989 and 1993 U.S. Women's Lacrosse teams which won both World Cup Championships. In 1993, she accompanied the team to Scotland.

Worth received her bachelor's degree in physical education from Maryland in 1973. She is a native of Timonium, Md.

Kevin McLaughlin—Assistant Athletic Trainer

Kevin McLaughlin begins his fifth year as a member of the University of Maryland Athletic staff. McLaughlin assists with the year-round football training duties and concentrates on working with the nationally competitive women's basketball team during the winter months.

McLaughlin came to Maryland from Loyola College in Baltimore where he worked from 1990 to 1993. While there, he was the trainer for the women's soccer, women's basketball and nationally ranked women's lacrosse teams.

He attended Towson University where he earned his bachelor's degree in general studies in 1989. He went on to earn his master's degree in education from the University of Virginia in 1990.

Based in Jefferson City, Missouri, Learfield is in its third season as the parent company for the radio network which boasts two of the strongest flagship stations on the entire east coast, WBAL (1090-AM) in Baltimore and WTOP (1500-AM) in Washington. All of Maryland's games this season—both home and away—will be heard live on the Learfield Radio Network.

The Terps will be heard on the flagship stations, WBAL and WTOP, which combine to give Maryland one of the strongest combination of broadcast signals of any collegiate football team in the nation. The Terps can be heard from Maine to Florida. Johnny Holliday will once again serve as the voice of the Terps. He will be joined this season by Ken Broo, the Sports Director at WUSA - TV in Washington, D.C.

Johnny Holliday

A native of Miami, Fla., Holliday began his broadcasting career in Perry, Ga., and through the years has worked in three of the nation's prime radio markets: New York City, San Francisco and Washington.

As deep as his broadcasting expertise is, his expertise at raising money for charity might be better. Washingtonian Magazine honored him as a Washingtonian of the Year for his many civic activities. His basketball and softball teams, the Radio Wonders, have raised more than a million dollars for charity. He is involved in Special Olympics, Catholic Charities, Operation Smile, and the Boy Scouts of America. Joe Burden
Academic Assistant for Football

Joe Burden joins the staff of the Academic Support Unit as an Academic Assistant and will work directly with the football program.

A native of Dover, Del., Burden attended Norfolk State University and played football on a full athletic scholarship. He was named to the Coca-Cola Black Collegiate Academic All-American Football team and graduated Cum Laude with a bachelor's degree in physical education and exercise science in 1994. He then earned his master's of science in program design and evaluation , with a specialization in athletic administration in 1996.

He joins the Maryland athletic staff after having served at Delaware State as an Assistant Director of Compliance, student-athlete academic advisor and as the Director of Intramurals. Prior to working at Delaware State, he was a graduate assistant in the Physical Education Department at Michigan State from January of 1995 to May of 1996. While at Michigan State, he also served as an academic advisor and was an assistant in the sports operations office.

Academic Support

The University of Maryland considers intercollegiate athletics an integral part of the collegiate experience. Its existence provides an opportunity for students, faculty, alumni and students to share in the life of intercollegiate athletics.

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to achieve the same standards of excellence in its athletics program as exist within the University's teaching, research and public service programs. The department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student, possessing academic abilities, personal interests and ambitions comparable to those of the other members of the student body.

Terp Tutors

Teaching Excellence and Recognizing the Potential for Success targets local elementary and middle school students and helps those who may be struggling in the disciplines of reading and math. Student-Athlete volunteers visit local schools and provide free tutoring services. The program is designed to reach out to the community and help young people improve their school skills, self-esteem and awareness of the world around them.

Terp Choices

Terp Choices is a program designed to guide student-athletes by orienting, supporting and increasing awareness of relevant issues pertaining to student-athletes in today's world. The focus of the program is making personal choices and how they may affect an entire team, not just a single individual. Education and interactive workshops are presented to the athletic team and are led by student educators.

The Mentorship Program

The Terrapin Career Mentorship program involves an alumni based group of individuals who are interested in working with graduating student-athletes. The mentors aid students through the process of making the transition from college to the work world. Attempts are made to match the individual student-athlete with a mentor from the same field of interest. Mentors are asked to assist the student-athlete in preparing the necessary tools to make him or her a more competitive job seeker.

Internship Program

The Internship Program is offered every spring to student-athletes who have earned 40 and 80 credits. The goal is to secure local summer internships for all interested student-athletes in an appropriate field of study.

The Partnership Program

The Terrapin Partnership Program is made up of a group of faculty and staff members at the University of Maryland who are interested in working with student-athletes who have just begun the process of earning a college degree. Volunteers are matched with freshman or sophomore student-athletes so that they can develop a primary contact person with whom they can share their questions or concerns about campus life, home life and academics.

Career Information Fairs

Career Awareness in Academic Support is expanding to include a variety of programs which will be offered for student-athletes throughout the semester. Career awareness will be an ongoing process and will include assistance with resume writing and interview skills. The end of the semester will bring a career awareness fair which will host a number of professionals with whom student-athletes can learn about career interests and planning. Unlike typical "job fairs", the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen area of interest.

Team Maryland

Team Maryland is a class taught in conjunction with the campus' Center for Political Leadership in which student-athletes are exposed to leadership and public speaking skills and techniques. The program consists of a group of volunteer student-athletes who learn about the challenges for children in the community by speaking to different elementary schools about drug abuse and the importance of education.

In conjunction with the campus' Center for Political Leadership, participants are taught leadership skills and public speaking techniques to use in their school-based presentation. In addition to school visits, Team Maryland has hosted visits from local school to our campus.

"In a page one story on May 15, 1997 with the headline, "Ivy League setting at affordable prices," the Baltimore Sun's education editor noted that, increasingly, high ability students are turning their back on private universities to enroll at the University of Maryland. The story noted that Maryland's academic programs are, "one of the most advanced of the breed," with "separate dormitories where they can live if they choose, lectures by academic and political stars, attractive internships in the Washington area, limits on class size and a host of carefully planned courses, many interdisciplinary and taught by the university's senior professors."

Metropolitan Area

Competitive Excellence Leads to Media Attention.

Competing in the Washington/ Baltimore metropolitan market, the fourth largest in the nation, means notice in one of the major media centers in the United States.

Maryland has the press facilities to match the importance of the media market. The Tyser Tower press box can seat 160 print media on its third level, and on the fourth level contains state-of-the-art facilities for television and radio.

The Smithsonian

- Within the Metropolitan market, two of the nation's top ten newspapers, the Washington Post and Baltimore Sun, cover the Terrapins extensively.

- The nation's newspaper, USA Today, is headquartered 20 miles from Byrd Stadium. No matter where you live, USA Today informs its readers about the Metropolitan area.

- Every major network—NBC, ABC, CBS and Fox—has a major news gathering affiliate station in both Washington and Baltimore. No major market in the East can boast eight significant television news outlets within 35 miles of a campus. And Washington has an additional 24 hour all-news television station.

- NBC, ABC, and CBS also maintain their own news bureaus in Washington, as does CNN (Cable News Network) and PBS (Public Broadcasting). In addition, major cable outlets like BET (Black Entertainment Network) and the Discovery Channel are headquartered here. In radio, each major network has a Washington bureau and Mutual Radio. NBC Radio and National Public Radio are headquartered in the Metropolitan region.

- One of the Associated Press's largest news bureaus is in Washington, as is its radio division. Bureaus are maintained by the New York Times and every leading news service. International news organizations like Reuters cover Maryland events, and countless news organizations and networks from around the world have bureaus in Washington.

Metropolitan Area

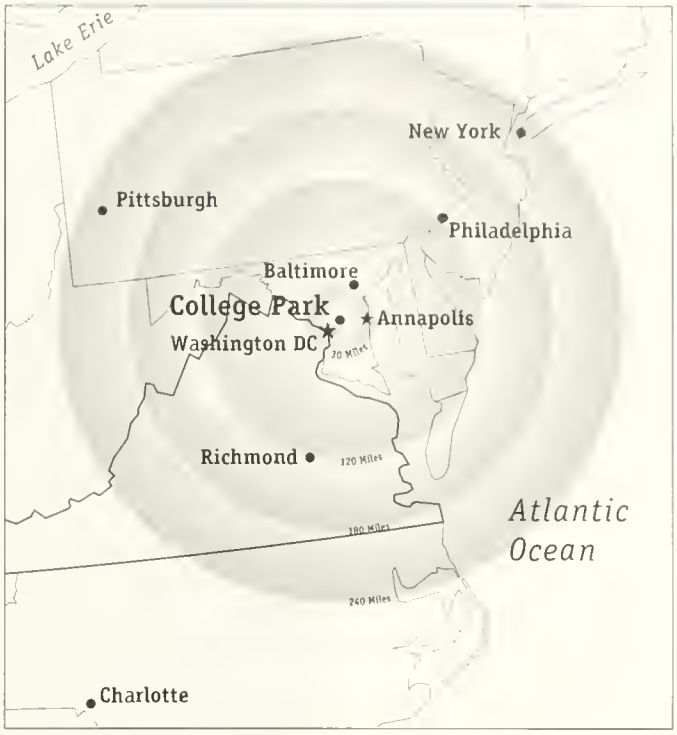
From Washington, Baltimore & Annapolis... to Philadelphia, Pittsburgh & New York City

College Park is surrounded by opportunities in sports and the arts, by chances to visit mountains or shore. It's a good location.

Washington, D.C., is three miles from Byrd Stadium. The National Capital's major attractions are within 10 miles. Making the trip easy is the Metro Rail System, which began connecting College Park to the rest of suburban Maryland, the District of Columbia, and Northern Virginia, in December of 1993. Campus shuttles serve the College Park station, allowing easy access to one of the country's model transportation systems.

Baltimore is located 35 miles north of the College Park campus. Its rejuvenation as an urban center is unprecedented: The Inner Harbor, its National Aquarium and tall ships, and the near-by Orioles Park at Camden Yards, create an exciting, vibrant, holiday atmosphere in a city that boasts one of the world's great sea ports. The heart of Maryland, the Chesapeake Bay, is 20 miles from campus, and the state capital, Annapolis, is 30 miles.

Washington and Baltimore may be reached easily from anywhere in the United States and the World. USAir, which is headquartered in the Metropolitan area, uses Baltimore/Washington International Airport as a hub. Both BWI and Dulles Airport, which is a hub for United Airlines, are international airports, capable of providing service to any continent. College Park is 10 minutes from the Amtrak Northeast Corridor Line and frequent train service along the East Coast.



Byrd Stadium

Learning to Play in a state-of-the-art classroom

Imaginative. Practical. Convenient. Well-equipped. Maryland lived up to its commitment to house its football team in the finest facility possible. Between the 1991 and 1992 football seasons, the Terps' $7 million Football Team Complex was constructed in Byrd Stadium's east end.

On September 12, 1992, a bronze Terrapin, the campus mascot, was placed outside the Football Team Complex entrance that led to the Byrd stadium turf. The Terrapin's nose was quickly rubbed clear of the statue's patina as Terp footballers sought good luck.

Imaginative. The 46,000-square-foot football complex, designed by H.O.K. Architects of Kansas City, (which also designed Orioles Park at Camden Yards), combines football function with imaginative design. Athletes make their conditioning home in the 7,000-square-foot strength and conditioning area under skylights that reveal 35,000 pounds of work-out machinery. Each player has a double locker—and a footlocker. On the second floor, every coach's office overlooks Byrd Stadium through oversized windows. A Terrapin Terrace surrounds the second floor offices for outdoor functions.

The Football Complex's amenities include oversized lockers, a self-contained sports medicine unit, and spacious meeting rooms.

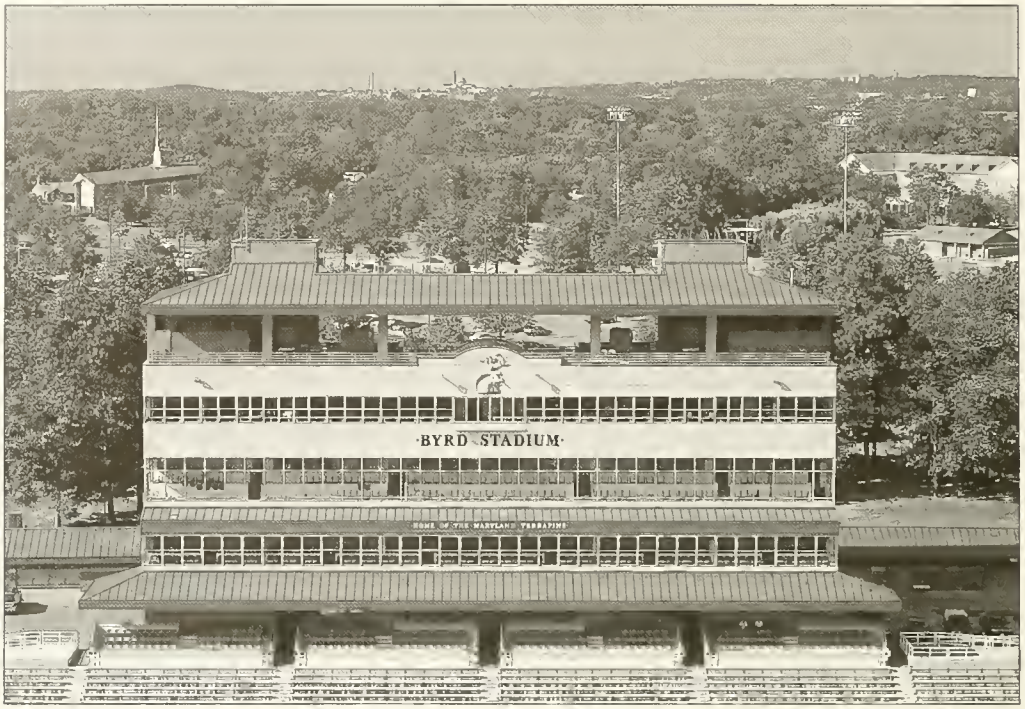
Practical. The layout of the ground floor allows easy access from strength and conditioning facilities to oversized locker rooms to medical facilities to equipment areas. The locker rooms, which house a sauna and roomy shower facilities, are less than 100 feet away from all conference areas on the second floor. The nine conference areas are interconnecting, and feature audio-visual equipment. Special snag-free carpeting was installed in the locker area, which also features a players' lounge.

Convenient. The Football Complex is within walking distance of dorms and dining areas, and because it is part of Byrd Stadium, it is situated in the midst of campus life. Both the practice fields and Byrd Stadium's turf are immediately outside the locker room door, or near-by. The steps leading down to the complex's front door face Cole Field House and the home of Maryland's academic support unit.

Well-equipped. Each phase of the complex—from the 3,500 square foot medical and hydrotherapy rooms, to weight area to office suites—is designed to teach and support football. A satellite dish links-up to a sophisticated audio-visual room.

The student-athletes came first in Maryland's building plans, the complex was the jewel of the first phase of Byrd refurbishment.

Maryland Football Facilities



Football facility

You can see the center of the Free World from the stands in recently renovated Byrd Stadium.

And the gridiron where a National Championship and eight Atlantic Coast Conference titles were won.

And a campus that was named Flagship of the Maryland State System of Higher Education in 1988. (You can also see the latest fruits of an historic construction boom on campus—a new Theater Arts Center that costs over $100 million and a Campus Recreation Center that costs $40 million.)

And a Football Complex at the East End of the stadium floor that is a spacious home for the Terrapins.

And a bronze Terrapin that guards the doors of Maryland's new football home.

Byrd I–Just who is Byrd?

Stadiums are named for everything from rivers to benefactors to immortal athletes to cities, but how many stadiums are named for the football coach who raises the money to build it, and whose team would play there?

Such was the world of 1923 when Byrd Stadium I was named for the consummate doer, H.C. 'Curley' Byrd. The College Park campus was renamed from Maryland State College to the University of Maryland in 1920. The athletic facilities were below par, and a grand school like the University of Maryland needed facilities to match.

Byrd, the football coach (1911-1934) and athletic director, raised $69,500 to build a 5,000 seat stadium where the present fraternity row is. Byrd's football troops played their entire 1922 schedule on the road because of construction; the first game in Byrd I was a 40-6 victory over Catholic U. in 1923's ninth game.

Byrd, the doer, became University President in 1936. He oversaw the boom that took College Park from an agricultural college to nationally acclaimed state university. Byrd added scores of campus buildings, not only laying the foundation of the campus, but actually building it.

The grand school became more grand. When Byrd hired Jim Tatum in 1947 Byrd I's days were numbered. Tatum was taking Maryland to the top of the football heap, and Byrd knew a worthy vehicle was needed to take his team there.

Byrd II

Byrd again raised the money, $1 million, to turn an orchard into the present day Byrd Stadium in 1950. The new stadium had classic lines, invoking images of Olympic stadiums from the past, but with state-of-the-art amenities. Byrd Stadium II originally seated 34,800, with temporary bleachers boosting the seating to 50,000.

By its fourth decade, Byrd II was showing its age. Cracks appeared in its face and the asphalt concourse became furrowed. Not only was a refurbishment needed but major, new construction. The State of Maryland instituted a matching gift program, the Maryland Partnership, to fund a refurbished Byrd. It took five years of construction, but Byrd was reborn in 1995.

A Byrd's Thumbnail

After 45 years, there is a memory for each seat in the present Byrd—eight A.C.C. football championships; loads of future professional quarterbacks; a national championship; a visit by the Queen of England in 1957; a homecoming for the Bear in 1974; coaches Tatum, Jerry Claiborne and Bobby Ross roaming its sideline.

1950: Byrd Stadium, at the foot of the campus's North Hill was completed. A home field school record 43,836 fans witnessed a victory over traditional rival Navy in the opening game, September 30. The original capacity was 34,680. Putting temporary bleachers around the top rim of the stadium and in the end zone boosted the capacity to 50,000.

1953: Byrd was home base for the National Championship Team.

Maryland Football Facilities

From the north stands at Byrd, the Capitol building, Washington Monument and National Cathedral are visible.

1957: Queen Elizabeth II visited for the North Carolina game, which marked the return of Jim Tatum to the scene of his coaching triumphs. The Royal Visit produced an upset 21-7 victory by Maryland. Coach Tommy Mont said later that this was his finest moment as coach.

1974: Bear Bryant returned to College Park where he had been head coach with his No. 3-ranked Alabama Crimson Tide on September 14. Temporary bleachers were installed for the second time in stadium history to accommodate 54,412, the largest crowd until that time at Byrd. Alabama won, 21-16.

1975: On November 1, the attendance record was set at Byrd as No.9-ranked Penn State defeated the No.14-ranked Terps, 15-13. The crowd was 58,973. Maryland's average attendance was a record 42,359.

1983: The second-largest crowd in Byrd Stadium, 54,715, witnessed the No.17-ranked Terps lose to West Virginia, 31-21 on September 17.

1985: The Terps, who were ranked No. 1 in the pre-season by Sport Magazine, set the all-time high attendance record, averaging 51,546 for six home games.

1990: Construction began following the last home football game against Wake Forest (Oct. 13). It was the first major athletic construction on campus in 35 years. The refurbishment is the first appreciable athletics construction done at Maryland-College Park without the oversight of Curley Byrd. At the start of refurbishment, capacity is 45,000.

1991: Capacity is 42,000 after the first phase of refurbishment and construction.

1995: Capacity is 48,055 following the addition of an upper deck. The Terps lead the nation in attendance increase, averaging over 42,000 fans a game.

Strength and Conditioning

Strength and Conditioning

The physical preparation of a student-athlete to compete in football has developed into a critical component. Emphasis is put on enhancing performance as well as preventing injuries. Strength coach Dwight Galt employs a program geared toward maximizing athletic development. The Strength and Conditioning staff makes every attempt to accommodate the different training needs of each individual athlete.

The Maryland football team works on a structured weight training program for 47 weeks out of the year, with the five non-training weeks strategically placed to promote recovery.

The preparation of a student-athlete to compete in football goes beyond weight lifting. Speed improvement, explosiveness, plyometrics, agility and conditioning receive great attention. The Strength and Conditioning staff goes to great lengths to improve the speed of the Terps through reduction of mechanical inefficiencies, and the improvement of acceleration..

The Terrapins are fortunate to train in one of the premier weight training facilities in the country. The Maryland Football Complex Weight Room features 7,000 square feet of space that holds training equipment which caters to the specific needs of football. A main component in this facility is the free weight equipment, including ten mammoth power racks, Olympic platforms, and 11 tons of free weights. State-of-the-art electrolyzed and plate loaded equipment further give the student-athlete the chance to better themselves.

Outstanding performance in the weight room is recognized twice a year with the awarding of the prestigious Iron Terp Award. Players who achieve a strength of 650 and above are included in this elite club. The Strength Index is derived by multiplying the total weight lifted with a coefficient based on body weight. That allows athletes with different body weights to compete for recognition as the strongest players in the program.

Iron Terps

The strength index is an indicator of how strong an athlete is when their body weight is taken into consideration.

Game credentials are issued to accredited members of the media only. Working space on the third floor of the Tyser Tower Press box is expressly reserved for the working media with no exceptions. Children and other non-workers are not allowed in the press area. Credentials should be ordered at least one week before each game and are issued through the Media Relations Office. Requests for credentials should be made in writing and on letterhead stationery to Chuck Walsh, Director of Media Relations. If it is convenient for you to FAX your request, you are welcome to do so. The FAX number in the Media Relations Office is (301) 314-9094. These requests are accepted from Sports Editors and Sports Directors only. When time permits, a working press pass and a parking pass will be mailed. When this is not possible, they will be left at the Press Will Call entrance at the West gate of Byrd Stadium. The press will call entrance is behind and to the left of the Tyser Tower.

Photographers, too, should make their credential requests at least one week in advance.

Game Day Press Parking is located in Parking Garage 1, to the left of the back entrance to Cole Field House. The parking garage is best accessed from the Stadium Drive entrance to campus. Access is via press parking pass only and is available on an extremely limited basis.

PRESS BOX SERVICES

Programs, flipcards, game notes and statistics will be available before each game on the press (third floor) level of the Tyser Tower Press Box. A typed play-by-play and statistics will be distributed following each quarter and following each game. In addition, coaches' and players quotes will be distributed after the game.

FAX MACHINE SERVICE

Fax machine service will be available. If you need any information faxed to your newspaper, please submit your request to a member of the Media Relations Office.

SIDELINE POLICY

Photographers should obtain an armband from the media relations assistant on the field below Section 28 to gain admittance to the field. Under NCAA and ACC rules, photographers are not allowed between the 25-yard lines and must remain outside of the restraining lines surrounding the field.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Head Coach Ron Vanderlinden and selected players will be brought to the team meeting room on the second floor of the football team house for post-game interviews. The team room is accessed through the front door of the team complex located one level above the playing field. Please enter the glass doors and follow the hallway to the team room on the right. Interviews with the visiting team will take place in the weightroom of the Varsity Team House which is located outside of the stadium on the opposite side of the field from the Tyser Tower Press Box.

INTERVIEWS WITH COACH VANDERLINDEN

Coach Vanderlinden will be available to the media at his weekly press luncheons at Noon each Monday preceding a game during the season. Members of the media, including print, radio and television are invited to listen to Coach Vanderlinden and then conduct one-on-one interviews on the second floor of the Tyser Tower Press Box. He is also available before practices on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. He is also available on the weekly ACC Teleconference at 11:40 a.m. on Wednesdays. Contact Brian Morrison at the ACC Office (910) 851-6062 or Chuck Walsh for the phone number.

PLAYER INTERVIEWS

All player interviews must be arranged through Chuck Walsh or Dave Gell of the Media Relations Office. Players have been instructed to conduct no interviews unless they have been set up in this manner. Interviews will be conducted Monday through Thursday. The time table should be followed: following practices on Tuesday and Wednesday and before pre-practice meetings on Monday and Thursday. No interviews will be granted on Sunday or Friday. Players phone numbers will not be distributed and members of the media are expressly asked not to attempt to contact the student-athletes on the phone. Players have been told not to accept calls from anyone asking a football-related question.

Players are not available for live call-in radio shows.

Practices are open to the media with few exceptions. Media wishing to attend practice should contact the Media Relations Office ahead of time.
